(Associated Press Cable.)
LONDON, AUGUST 16. — THE RUSSIANS, AFTER A CONSIDERABLE PERIOD OF INACTIVITY IN THE CARPATHIANS, ARE MOVING AGGRESSIVELY AGAINST THE ALBANIAN FORCES THERE.

Following the taking of Jablonica, one of the chief gateways to Hungary, reported last night, they have captured a series of heights west of Vorokhta and Ardzemoy. Petrograd reports an Austrian retreat to the west of this region. The movement is considered of importance as tending more effectively to protect the flank of the Russian armies moving northwestward in the Stanislaw-Halicz region in their advance on Lemberg.

Russian captures of prisoners from June 4 to August 12 are officially reported by Petrograd to have totalled more than 358,000 men.

Along the French front in the Somme region, there was no marked activity during last night.

At Verdun, there was a violent artillery bombardment east of the Meuse.

Raids by both Austrian and Italian airmen are occurring with frequency in the region around Trieste and Gorizia where rival aviators are endeavoring to inflict material damage behind the opposing lines. Italian aircraft, aided by French machines, have bombed munitions plants and airsheds near Trieste, and Austrian aviators have made another raid on Italian depots and positions near the mouth of the Isonzo. In each case marked successes are claimed.

PARTY VOTE BOOSTS BILL

Republicans in Finance Committee Oppose Revised Revenue Bill.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, August 16. — By a strict Democratic vote, Republicans unanimously opposing it, the Senate Finance Committee today ordered a favorable report to the Senate on the revised revenue bill, calculated to raise about $205,000,000 a year.

Chairman Simmons proposed, after disposition of the shipping bill, that the Senate should take up the workmen's compensation bill. In this event, the revenue bill will be the last important measure to be acted upon this session.

Although some Democrats are expected to oppose some features of the bill, Senator Simmons said he could see no reason why Congress should not adjourn about September 1st.

GERMAN VIEW OF THE SOMME

Half Million Men in British Force, German General Staff says, Unable to Break Through Lines.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
GERMAN TRENCHES OPPOSITE THE BRITISH POSITIONS AT GOMMECOURT, ON THE SOMME FRONT, MONDAY, AUGUST 14. — HALF A MILLION BRITISH HAVE BEEN ENGAGED IN THE EFFORT TO BREAK THE GERMAN LINES ON THE SOMME FRONT. OFTEN THE BRITISH OUTNUMBERED THE GERMANS SIX TO ONE.

They have gained ground to a depth of three to five miles over a front of about eighteen miles, but nowhere have been able to break through.

More than ever, death has become commonplace in this most murderous battle of all times.

The Germans in the first line know that they probably will be killed if their positions are attacked.

Trenches are virtually useless, for the heavy British shells widen them into broad channels.

The first line usually perishes. The advancing British foot troops are no better off, because the Germans reverse the process when part of their positions have been captured.

Thus the battle has been going on for weeks, the opposing forces now gaining at terrific cost, and then losing at even greater cost, a few yards of trenches.

German officers who were in the Champagne offensive said no such artillery fire ever had been developed previously.

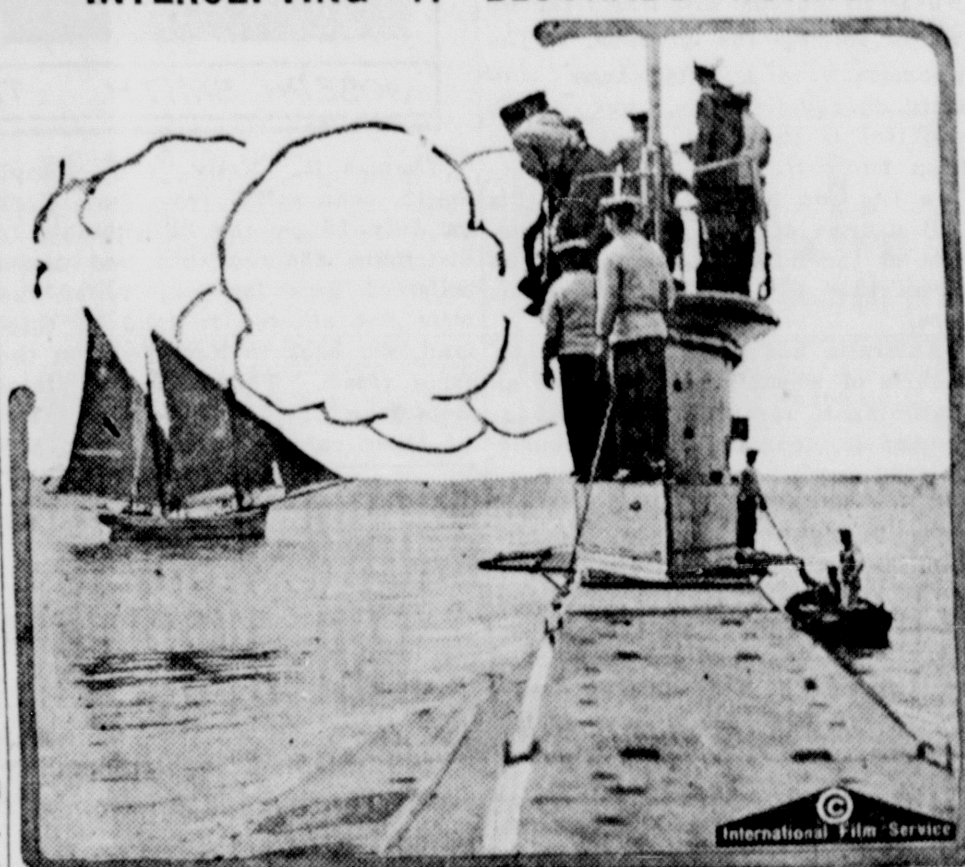

The German fire, too, is terrific. An idea of its intensity may be gained from the fact that on certain British troops German guns threw 1,600 shells in one minute and forty-five seconds, resulting in great slaughter.

Often the British assault dies away before the German second line, from which machine guns pour out streams of bullets which literally cut them into fine fragments.

The men are in capital shape, physically, and of easy mind, although they are looking upon death at each instant.

An officer pointed out that nowadays each man is his own leader, as it is often impossible under present battle conditions to transmit commands.

TO CONFER THURSDAY

By Associated Press Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, AUGUST 15. — PRESIDENT WILSON DECIDED TODAY TO POSTPONE FURTHER CONFERENCES WITH THE REPRESENTATIVES OF THE RAILROADS AND EMPLOYES ON THE THREATENED RAILROAD STRIKE UNTIL TOMORROW, WHEN HE WILL RECEIVE THE GENERAL COMMITTEE OF 640 WORKMEN IN THE EAST ROOM OF THE WHITE HOUSE.

In the meantime, the committee of managers here and the general committee of the employees will meet to discuss tentative plans now before them.

The plan on which the president is working is to put into effect the eight hour day and have a federal commission investigate collateral issues.

Details of the plan have not been worked out, but it was said to be possible today that if the railroads conceded an eight hour day, the employees will be urged to give up their demands for time and a half for overtime.

The halt in the negotiations has been caused primarily by the fact that the brotherhood leaders that have been meeting with the President have no plenary powers and have to refer all important questions back to their general committee, in New York.

President Wilson decided time would be saved and better results achieved if the members of the general committee were brought to Washington and met him directly.

The committee of managers remained in session almost continuously today, discussing the conference with the President and the tentative suggestions outlined.

It was stated that the negotiations are now in such form that definite decisions may be made by both sides before the end of the week.

Two special trains will bring the committeemen from New York.

PRESIDENT FINISHES HIS PLANS

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, August 16. — President Wilson late today completed a definite plan for settlement of the threatened railroad strike, which he will submit tomorrow to the general committee of 640 representatives of the employees and the managers' committee.

The plan involves the acceptance of a basic eight hour day with regular pay for overtime, and an investigation by a commission of other issues.

PROSPECT GROWING BRIGHTER

Special Commission Idea Appeals to Both Sides—President Waits for Committee.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, August 16. — Out of the deadlock between the railroad managers and the brotherhood leaders, a new proposal appeared today for a special commission to consider not only the present wage dispute, but all others in the future.

While President Wilson, the managers' committee and the spokesmen for the men awaited the arrival of the employees' committee of 640, which is expected here from New York tomorrow for the next White House conference, Administration officials and the representatives of the two sides considered the commission idea with a degree of seriousness which indicated it would come into the negotiations as one of the next steps in the President's attempt to avert a nation wide strike.

DECREASED DEATH RATE

By Associated Press Dispatch.
New York, August 16. — A slight decrease in deaths and new cases in the epidemic of infantile paralysis was noted today.

During the 24 hours ending at 10 a. m., the plague killed 34 children while 113 persons were stricken.

Yesterday there were 39 deaths and 163 new cases.

On account of the prevalence of the epidemic in Hoboken, the authorities of that city today decided to postpone the opening of schools until October, or later if necessary.

JAPS' MOVE SIGNIFICANT

(Associated Press Cable.)
Tokio, Aug. 16.—The appointment of Baron Gonsuke Hayashi as minister to China simultaneously with the announcement of the Russo-Japanese alliance is regarded here as being of great significance and as opening a new chapter in the relations between Japan and the Chinese Republic. Baron Hayashi was ambassador to Italy at the time of his selection for the post at Peking at which capital he served as minister several years ago. The Japanese consider him one of their foremost diplomats. He accepted the place at Peking which brings him back to ministerial rank at the urgent solicitation of Japanese statesmen.

The representative to China freely discussed the Chinese situation with the representative of a prominent Japanese newspaper. He expressed the opinion that it was premature to conclude that the death of President Yuan Shikai benefitted Japan. To China, his death may have been fortuitous in so far as it has contributed to settling the turbulent situation. Still, what the final result would be remains to be seen.

Baron Hayashi voiced his belief that conservation and prudence should have the dominating influence in dealing with the situation in China. He referred to the fact that at the last session of the Diet there had occurred much discussion of the advisability of Japan guiding China. He said he considered it most imprudent to speak of "guiding China". He continued: "Modern Japan was not built in a day. Similarly it will take many more years before China awakens from her long dream and evolves, from her two thousand years old institutions, social organization, customs and manners, and puts on the new garb of modern civilization. But it must come sooner or later. Her commerce, in industry and agriculture are destined to expand, and her rich resources will bring in immense national wealth when fully developed. In such eventualities, it will be no other country than Japan that will derive the immense benefits resulting from China's future development."

The minister concluded: "It is a good thing to attempt to unify national views respecting the policy towards China, but it is to be desired that politicians and publicists of this country, as well as the general public, should not be in haste about the Chinese questions. When the proper time arrives China will surely develop without assistance, and attain national development and progress by her own unaided effort. In this respect, interference from without is of no use."

NEW ZEPPS. ARE READY FOR WORK

(Associated Press Cable.)
Copenhagen, Aug. 16.—The Germans, says a report received here, have just completed and placed in a huge shed at Darmstadt, ten Zeppelins of 820 feet in length with a gas capacity of 190,675 cubic feet. In the hull is provision for machine guns and for light pieces of ordnance.

The newest Zeppelins are said to have four armor-plated cars, of which the first is the heaviest. All the cars are fitted with guns. Armored gangways connect the cars. The engines indicate 4,000 horsepower, and the speed is 57 miles an hour. These ships can reach a height of more than 13,000 feet.

WOULD MOVE BIG WHEAT CROP

(Associated Press Cable.)
Melbourne, Australia, Aug. 16.—The government's purchase of fifteen large steamships in England to be operated by the Commonwealth in the movement of Australian wheat to Europe will not go far towards solving the problem. The steamers have a total cargo capacity of 120,000 tons, but it is doubtful if they can make more than two trips each to Europe before the end of the year, and this will dispose of only 9,000,000 bushels of the huge quantity of the cereal that is awaiting shipment here.

Australia has almost 100,000,000 bushels of wheat stored in sheds or beginning to sprout in stacks where storage is unavailable in country railroad yards, and the Commonwealth's next wheat harvest is already in sight to further complicate the problem.

The government's purchase of the steamers is hailed by the Labor Party with gratification, for the establishment of a government-owned fleet has long been a plank in its platform.

JAPS BUSY ON CAPTURED ISLES

(Associated Press Cable.)
Tokio, Aug. 16.—Government officials recently returned from the German South Sea islands which were occupied by Japan after outbreak of the European war report that Japanese administration has been widely extended and that primary schools have been established in seven of the largest islands. The archipelago which is now ruled by Japan includes islands in the groups known as Marianne, Caroline and Marshall.

The native children are taught the Japanese language, arithmetic, singing and sewing. It is proposed to send a party of sixty leading natives to Japan during the summer or autumn. A regular line of steamers maintains communication with Japan while Japanese sailing vessels and launches run between the various islands. The actual disposition of the islands is to be decided at the peace conference which will follow the present war.

The Taxpayers' League

Last Monday evening more than two score representative citizens met to consider and discuss together some problems of public concern.

The matter of cleaning and flushing the paved streets was the primary cause of the meeting but the controversy over the proposed contract for the rendition of that public service having, prior to the meeting, been transferred to the court for solution, there was little for the gathering to do with reference to that matter.

The most important development of the meeting was the fact that a taxpayers' league was formed with more than two score of enrollments.

It is the belief of those who attended the meeting that a permanent organization of men, vitally concerned with the conduct of public affairs in Washington has resulted.

Washington, so far as the manner of transacting public business is concerned, has been showing a tendency to run at loose ends and at cross purposes, an evidence that the best results are not being secured.

The real trouble is the system which is too costly and too cumbersome for a city of this size. There are too many bars down in the official fences which permit the entry of politics and special interests into the conduct of public affairs.

Washington has done very well, under the circumstances, thus far and it will be in changing conditions that the real service of the taxpayers' league will prove invaluable. The city has now reached the point where the property owners' interests must be safeguarded by the adoption of real practical business methods; when public affairs must be placed in business order and conducted according to business rules, or the burdens will become intolerable and private affairs suffer a loss in addition to the direct burden of taxation.

Another Crisis

President Wilson is again called upon to face a tremendous crisis—the threatened strike of more than four hundred thousand railroad employees throughout the country which, unless it can be averted, will paralyze traffic on the more than two hundred railroads, bring commerce, both foreign and domestic, to a standstill, leave travelers stranded away from home, interrupt, if it does not entirely halt, the mail service, send the prices of food stuffs already higher than ever known, still higher.

Such a strike would directly cut off the earning capacity of more than half a million men who, with their dependents would make a grand total of more than two million people to say nothing of those indirectly affected.

The railroad employees and managers, failing to reach an agreement, the efforts of the Federal Board of Mediation and Conciliation having come to naught, President Wilson himself has been called upon to use his best efforts to bring about an agreement on the matters in dispute and avert the strike.

Both railroad managers and the chiefs of the brotherhoods have expressed their admiration of the president's comprehension of the situation and contentions of both parties and his sympathetic interest.

Whether his efforts for peace will be successful depends largely, if not entirely, upon the good faith and the honesty of purpose of the disputing parties.

The nation hopes that the way to peaceful settlement will be found before, instead of after, the cost and suffering and, perhaps, bloodshed, of a general strike.

The Child Labor Law

While the nation is appalled at the ravages of infantile paralysis, while human beings everywhere are aghast at the death rate among children, and while the authorities, national, state and local are doing everything within their power to check the spread and stamp out the disease which is claiming so many children as its victims, it is difficult to understand just how any member of the national congress can oppose the enactment of a law forbidding child labor in the workshops and factories of the land.

Every year the iniquitous custom of working children in factories has claimed its thousands of little victims.

It is likely that more fatalities among children are attributable to child labor than to the ravages of infantile paralysis, yet some legislators, who would go to any extreme in the expenditure of money and energy to stamp out the plague, balk at the enactment of a law which would remove a menace much more deadly to the children of the land.

It becomes necessary for the federal government to act because of the hostility caused by selfish interests with which some of the states, unfortunately, view the proposal to do away with child labor. The action of the national government is necessary too, in order that that uniformity which will prevent any advantage in cost of production.

The proposed law which is being and has been so relentlessly urged upon the law makers by President Wilson is certainly all that any manufacturer, who has a spark of love for humanity in his makeup, could ask.

Poetry For Today

TE WIND AND THE SEA.

The sea is a jovial comrade,
 He laughs wherever he goes;
 His merriment shines in the dimpling lines
 That wrinkle his hale repose;
 He lays himself down at the feet of the sun,
 And shakes all over with glee,
 And the broad-backed billows fall faint on the shore,
 In the mirth of the mighty sea.

But the wind is sad and restless,
 And cursed with an inward pain;
 You may hark as you will, by valley or hill,
 But you hear him still complain.
 He wails on the barren mountains,
 And shrieks on the wintry sea;
 He sobs in the cedar, and moans in the pine,
 And shudders all over the aspen tree.

Welcome are both their voices,
 And I know not which is best—
 The laughter that slips from the ocean's lips,
 Or the comfortless wind's unrests.
 There's a pang in all rejoicing,
 A joy in the heart of pain,
 And the wind that saddens, the sea that gladdens,
 Are singing the selfsame strain!

SITUATION FAR FROM ADJUSTED

General Committee of Employees to See Wilson.

MAY GET SHORTER DAY

Contending Officials Refuse to Predict What the Outcome Will Be—President Wilson is Sounding Sentiment and Has Not Attempted as Yet to Make Any Effort to Settle the Problem.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Effort of President Wilson to bring about a settlement of the threatened railway strike has made some progress and opened the way for further negotiations.

The situation is brightened by the possibility of a settlement being reached by the railroads conceding the principle of the eight-hour day and both sides settling collateral issues by some sort of negotiations as yet undetermined.

After conferring with President Wilson the employees' subcommittee sent word to New York for the 640 members of the general committee to come to Washington, in order to facilitate negotiations. They are expected here Thursday and probably will see the president Friday. The managers' committee conferred with him again today.

When it became clear that arbitration of the entire problem probably never would be reached, but the railroads might concede the eight-hour day and dispose of other issues by some form of negotiation, the president directed his energies to obtaining expressions from both sides on how negotiations could be carried on.

Conferences and inquiry by an investigating committee were suggested and the president indicated his willingness to appoint such a commission himself.

It is understood that the employees' representatives offered no suggestions on this feature of the situation. The railroads were reported to be ready to concede the principle of the eight-hour day on condition that all collateral issues be thoroughly investigated by the interstate commerce commission or some other body. Administration officials refused to predict what the outcome would be, and the president was said to be uncertain whether a strike could be avoided. The White House conferences will be continued, but it was not believed that a crisis would be reached before Thursday. In the meantime the managers and employees will communicate with the interests they represent.

The decision to send to New York for the general committee of railroad employees was reached because the subcommittee here is without power to reach important decisions without reference to the men in New York. At first it was suggested that the subcommittee here go to New York, but the president thought it would be better to have the general committee come here. He wasted no opportunity to explain to all the members any suggestions which may be made by the managers' committee.

Thus far the president has not attempted to bring the two sides together on any concrete proposal. He is sounding sentiment on all phases of the situation in order to have the case fully in hand before making a final effort to settle the problem.

Both sides continued reticent regarding the discussions. The railroad managers decline absolutely to talk of the negotiations and about all the employees' officials will say is that there still is hope.

BLACKMER & TANQUARY.

FAYETTE COUNTY FAIR IS NOW IN FULL SWING

Patrons Delighted With Unusual Offerings Which Feature Fair This Year.

FINE RACING PROGRAM DRAWS CROWD TODAY

Nearly All Departments Show Marked Increase Over Previous Years—State Exhibits Draw Much Attention—Monster Crowd Expected Tomorrow.

The Sixteenth Annual Fayette County Agricultural Fair is now in full swing, and patrons are delighted with the offering this year.

The weather man smiled a broad smile Wednesday morning, dispelling the clouds and gloom, and a good sized Wednesday crowd flocked to the fair grounds for entertainment, amusement and instruction, which is found in abundance this year.

Big Day Tomorrow.

All indications point to Thursday bringing one of the biggest crowds to the grounds that was ever assembled there, and arrangements are being made accordingly.

The racing card Thursday includes the 2:11 pace, purse $500; 2:15 trot, purse $400; 2:20 trot, purse $300; with an unusually large number of entries in these fast races.

Friday will be another big day, the racing and everything else being sufficient to insure another big crowd.

Horse Shoe Contest.

The horse shoe contest Wednesday was an interesting feature, with Mr. A. W. Duff in charge. The pegs were set northwest of the grandstand and the first thing encountered was a big bumble bee's nest located midway between the stakes. It was necessary to annihilate the bees before annihilating any records.

Machinery.

A few years have wrought wonders in the farm machinery and farming implements, and the exhibits at the fair offer a splendid opportunity to note the countless changes.

Several local concerns have large exhibits on the grounds and each is sure to attract its share of attention.

The several automobile displays also are receiving their share of attention—and it is a very large share—indicative of the interest in motoring.

Fence men, concrete contractors, lumbermen and others have interesting displays. One which is attracting much attention is that of the Washington Lumber Company, where a miniature bungalow and surroundings are shown, constructed of cypress wood.

Amusements.

The line of amusements include tented attractions, merry-go-round, Ferris wheel, swings, etc., where the youngsters and the oldsters may enjoy themselves as much as they like.

Welfare Headquarters.

Just to the right of the main road way as one enters the fenced enclosure of the grounds is located the Welfare Headquarters, with Miss Sutton in charge. It is here the public rest rooms are found, also the emergency hospital is here.

The Better Babies conference is conducted in one of the tents on the Welfare Association.

In the main room of the Welfare Headquarters are found statistics calculated to make one think, and think seriously, of what public health means, and particularly of what "better babies" mean.

Public Health Exhibit.

Just across the roadway from the Welfare Headquarters is the State Public Health Exhibit. This occupies a large tent and everything in the tent is of a highly educational nature, as well as of absorbing interest. Scores of graphic illustrations are found here that "tell the story" of much ill health and give the reason for many unnecessary deaths. This exhibit is in charge of a man from the State Board of Health who explains where explanation is necessary.

Every man, woman and child attending the fair will miss one of the really big things of the fair unless they spend at least a half hour in the tent. No admission is charged.

Poultry Raising Exhibit.

Another exhibit sent out by the State, and one which is of great interest, is the Poultry Raising Exhibit, across the roadway southeast of the art hall. This is another remarkable and practical demonstration of much educational value.

I. O. O. F. EATS & DRINKS.

The Washington Odd Fellows have five tents on the grounds. One of these tents shelters a kitchen, screened in; another covers a screened dining hall; the third a soft drink, hot lunch stand; a fourth, soft drinks, pop corn, etc., and the fifth, the largest of all, is devoted to ice cream, etc. Cleanliness is apparent at all of these places, and "home folks" are to be found in the stands. The Health Officer has placed his "O. K." on these places.

Improvements Made.

Many improvements have been made about the grounds, and one noticeable improvement is the placing of covers over the tanks at the wells, and inserting faucets in each side of the tanks so that drinking water may be readily obtained.

New seats and flooring are found at the grandstand, while new roofing is very much in evidence. Fences have been repaired and other work done to bring the grounds more up to date. The judges' stand on the north side of the track is another change.

The Departments.

The speed ring rightly should be the leading attraction this year, and is in charge of that veteran horseman, Chas. Allen, who is known to every man, woman and child who will attend the fair.

Mr. Howard Allen has charge of the show horses and much credit is due him for the superb offering this year.

The Cattle Department is in charge of Mr. M. L. McCoy and is one of the very interesting departments.

Mr. O. A. Klever, head of the Swine Department, is greatly elated over the fine showing of swine, and the exhibits are expected to arouse increased interest in the raising of really fine porkers.

Even the Poultry and Pet stock Department, of which Mr. D. E. Mereshon is superintendent, has an added interest, and is drawing its share of attention.

The department of farm products, domestic science, etc., in charge of Mr. Oris Hagler, is never without a stream of visitors who are giving close attention to each entry. The large general exhibits by Mr. Walter Sprenger and Mr. Chas. Allen attract much admiration.

Mr. James Ford is superintendent of the machinery displays, and is pleased with the offering.

The department of fine arts is overflowing with the beautiful, and Miss Flora Allen had difficulty in finding sufficient space to properly display all of the beautiful things consigned to this department.

Boys & Girls Department.

No feature of the fair is attracting more general interest than the pig and poultry raising contests, and home making contest, in which liberal prizes have been offered to stimulate interest among the boys and girls of the farm.

The main exhibits in these departments are under a large tent, northwest of the grandstand, and near the swine department. Mr. Frank Collopy has charge of the Boys' and Girls' Club work, and Messrs. Conklin and Kirkpatrick, of the O. S. U., are judges.

Some enterprising farm girls have raised porkers which rival those grown by the boys. One boy raised a pig which gained 2.4 pounds daily. Misses Kauffman and Roush, of the O. S. U., have charge of the girls' canning and baking contests.

Veterinary Exhibit.

The State Veterinary Department exhibit, south of the agricultural hall, is an interesting one, and is drawing large crowds.

Excellent Music.

The Washington Band is furnishing the music and receiving many compliments on the excellent music rendered.

The band has made special arrangements for this week, and play a large number of high class selections.

AUTO IS WRECKED TWO ARE INJURED

Touring Car Turns Over After Rounding Curve on Devalon Road and Entire Party Has Miraculous Escape—Two Are Painfully Hurt.

A automobile accident in which a number of persons had very close calls from death or serious injury occurred just south of the Shelley turn on the Devalon road, about 10:30 Tuesday night, when Mr. Chas. McLean's automobile turned completely over and was badly wrecked.

Mr. McLean had been to London to see Mrs. McLean who is visiting friends there, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mallow, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrie Spragg and Miss Dora Hays were with him in his Hudson car.

The accident occurred just after the machine rounded the turn and it is supposed the rear wheel broke causing the machine to swerve from side to side but regardless of Mr. McLean's efforts to control it, the machine turned across the road and then turned completely over, alighting right-side-up and spilling most of the occupants.

Mr. McLean suffered painful cuts and bruises on the left leg and sprained shoulder. Mr. Spragg was pinned beneath the rear portion of the machine and one leg badly cut and bruised. It was some little time before the machine could be pried up and Mr. Spragg released from his dangerous position. Mr. Mallow, Mrs. Mallow, Mrs. Spragg and Miss Hays escaped with slight scratches and bruises.

The machine was badly wrecked, one rear wheel being torn to pieces, spring broken, windshield and top torn off, steering wheel broken and the car otherwise damaged.

Passersby rendered assistance and brought the entire party into the city.

PRIMITIVE BAPTIST ASSOCIATION HOLDS 3-DAY SESSION HERE

The Scioto Primitive Baptist Association, including thirteen churches in South Central Ohio, opened the 112th annual session at the High School Auditorium in this city, Wednesday morning, and will be in session until Friday evening, during which time a number of well known Elders of the Association will preach.

Two sessions will be held each day, and the noonday luncheon furnished by the Harmony, Mt. Oak and Mt. Pleasant churches, is enjoyed in the basement rooms each day.

Wednesday morning the introductory sermon was delivered by Elder

L. V. Hite, of Marion, Ohio, who spoke from St. Johns, 17-2.

Reading of letters from the various churches also occupied part of the time at the Wednesday morning session, and all churches were reported in good condition.

Elder Walter Yeoman is Moderator, and Gale Hanover, of Ashville, is clerk.

About 150 persons attended the morning session, and this number is expected to increase during the remaining sessions.

CARROLL M'CREA FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Friends of Mr. Carrol McCrea, of Toledo, will be interested to learn that he was successful in being nominated one of the four Lucas county candidates for State Representative.

There was a field of ten candidates for the nominations. Mr. McCrea is a son-in-law of Judge and Mrs. F. G. Carpenter.

NO DANGER

No infantile paralysis exists in the city or county, so far as known, and the Health Officer believes there is no danger for youngsters at the fair, and many inquiries have been answered in that way.

One rumor was that children would be barred from the fair, but this was false, and due to needless alarm.

EYE INJURED

While at work in a garage Wednesday morning, Wilbur Cabbage nearly lost an eye when the handle of an air pump struck him, cutting an ugly gash under the eye, but not injuring the sight.

BRUTAL WORK EXPECTED TO CAUSE ARREST

A large number of citizens on Temple and Market streets are much wrought up over an act of brutality which has been called to the attention of Humane Officer Gooderly who is expected to act in the matter.

According to information available a handsome shepherd dog had been left at the home of a North street resident, and he desired to get rid of the animal, and paid a man $1 to dispose of the dog.

It seems the man took the animal into the alley back of Withrow's grocery early Monday evening, and with a club brutally beat it until it agonized cries ceased, and then left it for dead, tied to a telephone pole. A short time later the animal regained consciousness and its cries aroused the neighborhood throughout the night.

Tuesday morning the dog was found in the alley, still alive and with its head covered with blood and skull crushed, trying to free itself from the rope about its neck.

Residents of that part of the city notified the Humane Officer who had an officer to shoot the dog. Two shots were fired and the dog again was left for dead, but later revived, and it was not until about noon Tuesday that Mr. Withrow, acting upon advice from the Mayor's office, dispatched the suffering brute.

Citizens familiar with the affair are insisting that the man who brutally beat the dog be arrested and fined the limit, and are looking to the Humane Society to do this.

MILLION DOLLAR BANK IS BOAST OF WASHINGTON

Midland National Bank, in Current Statement, Exhibits Aggregate Resources Which Carry It Over the Million Dollar Limit.

Marks Era in Development Which Attests Conclusively Community Prosperity.

As evidence of the prosperity and development of this community—city and county—the tremendous business and resources of its flourishing financial institutions—its banks, national, state and private—may be accepted as final and conclusive.

There is no barometer so sensitive to and so accurate in its recording of business conditions as banks and financial institutions. The fact that the 19 banks of this county exhibit such a prosperous condition and are transacting such an immense volume of business renders absolutely impossible any serious suggestion of business depression.

The five large banks of this city all show a flourishing business which means a prosperous, busy community.

There can't be any doubt about that, because if the community is not prosperous the bank deposits can't be large and if the bank deposits are not large the bank loans are not extensive—can't be.

Prosperous, busy banks therefore show not only a rich community, but an active, "up and doing" community, with everything on the go and everybody prosperous.

But all that is generality—academic so to speak.

Here is a startling and pleasing concrete fact.

WASHINGTON CAN NOW BOAST OF A MILLION DOLLAR BANK.

It's a fact and it's the first time in the history of the city and county that a local financial institution has attained that tremendous figure.

The Midland National Bank, in its financial statement, shows that it now enjoys the honor of having passed the million dollar mark in resources.

To be exact, the Midland National Bank exhibits resources aggregating at the present time, $1,002,913.26.

That's a great big business and indicates what is going on in the community. As an evidence that the vast resources exhibited in the statement are not lying idle in the vaults of the institution, as proof that the community is doing business it should be noted that of this more than a million dollars of resources, $707,602.41 is in loans and discounts. Actually circulating in the arteries of business and trade of the city and county.

That means that the community is at work and is bound to grow and expand and increase its wealth.

Another item in the statement worthy of particular consideration is that the people of the community have on deposit, in the million dollar bank, $834,679.82. That is proof that several individuals in this city of eight thousand population, and this county of 22,000, have "money in the bank."

And when we remember that four other banks in Washington are crowding the Midland National for a division of the honor that comes to a million dollar bank, we begin to appreciate just what kind of a community this is, in which we live.

The officers of Washington's million dollar bank are: S. W. Cissna, president; Viola F. Stuckey, vice-president; M. S. Daugherty, cashier; Scott Hopkins, assistant cashier; H. E. Daugherty, teller.

HORSE THIEF IS CAPTURED

George Ackley, 19, Admits Stealing Horse and Rig in This City—Arrested in Bainbridge Upon Information From Police—"Curley" Church With Him.

The thief who stole Mrs. W. D. Irvin's horse and buggy from the rack at Grace M. E. church, was captured in Bainbridge, Tuesday evening, and is now in the county jail awaiting a hearing. He is said to have admitted his crime.

The thief is George Ackley, 19, who was arrested in company with "Curley" Church after trying to dispose of the horse and buggy in Bainbridge.

The pair, when suspected, abandoned the outfit and tried to escape, but after a thrilling chase were captured and Sheriff Jones notified. He went to Bainbridge and brought the pair back.

Ackley exonerates Church, claiming the latter knew nothing about the matter until Tuesday.

At a preliminary hearing before Justice Craig this morning both men were held to the grand jury under $200 bond.

Drivers of automobiles from other points, coming to this city to take part in hauling to and from the fair grounds, are making vigorous protest against a fee of $10.00 per day for a license to operate a machine as a hack or carrier of passengers.

Antiquity of the Senate.

The senate is historically much older than the lower house, or house of representatives, as it is called in our country and time. In the remote time, while as yet there was no such thing as a science of government, the tribe was wont to look to its old men, on account of their wisdom and experience, for advice in all matters pertaining to the tribe, and those old men were the first senators. The word senator comes from "senes," meaning old. As civilization advanced and seated government became a fact the senate continued to be composed of the old men, and when by and by the second chamber, or council, was added the senate continued to receive the larger measure of reverence and respect.

A Taste For Soap.

Surely one of the queerest of tastes was that of the historian Prescott, of whose life in Rome Mrs. Hugh Fraser tells in "A Diplomatist's Wife In Many Lands." She says that he used to keep a cake of soap on his writing table and nibble at it constantly, "saying when he was remonstrated with, that people should be clean inside as well as out."

CREATES SECOND GREATEST

Measure on Preparedness Passed By House.

DEMOCRATS OPPOSE BILL

Enlistment of 74,700 Men and Building of 157 Vessels Authorized During Next Three Years—Republican Leader Says His Party Should Get Credit For Adoption of the Measure. Kitchin Flays Democrats.

Washington, Aug. 16.—The administration's program of national defense was virtually completed when the house finally approved the great increases in construction and personnel in the big navy measure. The bill creates the second greatest navy in the world.

The house accepted the building program, to which its conferees on the measure had refused to agree, by a vote of 283 to 51, with seven of the members present not voting. The personnel increases, on which there also was a disagreement in conference, were approved without a record vote.

The personnel and construction sections, which already have the approval of the senate, authorize an increase in enlisted men to 74,700 and the building of 157 war vessels within the next three years, with four battle cruisers and four battleships included among the ships for 1917. Previously the house had refused to adopt a continuing building program, had authorized only five capital ships, all of them battle cruisers, and had provided for a personnel of only 65,000.

On several less important sections, including appropriations for improvement of navy yards, the house insisted on its disagreement to senate increases and voted to send the bill back to conference for settlement of these points. An early agreement is expected, however, and the measure may be sent to the president for his signature within a week.

The vote by which the house accepted the senate increase in the building program was non-partisan, the majority of both Democrats and Republicans voting in the affirmative.

Of the 51 members who voted in the negative there were 35 Democrats, 15 Republicans and one Socialist.

The time allotted opponents of the big program was controlled by Democratic Leader Kitchin, who charged the Democrats with a sharp change of front.

"Two months ago the Democrats, urged by the administration, were asked to vote against the wild, reckless, extravagant appropriations proposed by the Republicans," said Mr. Kitchin. "I denounced the Republican program as a reckless criminality. Yet now the chairman of the committee, the secretary of the navy, the president and fellow Democrats ask me to get up here and eat my words."

Republican Leader Mann, advocating the increase, declared it was ordinary wisdom to prepare for "what we hope will never come."

"I want to keep out of war," he said, "but we should be prepared to protect our rights, at home and abroad. The credit will belong to the Republican side for the votes that will pass this larger program."

DREADNAUGHT GOES TO BOTTOM

(By American Press)

Paris, Aug. 16.—The Italian dreadnought Leonardo Da Vinci has been blown up in Taranto harbor, Italy, and 300 of her crew lost, according to unofficial dispatches received here.

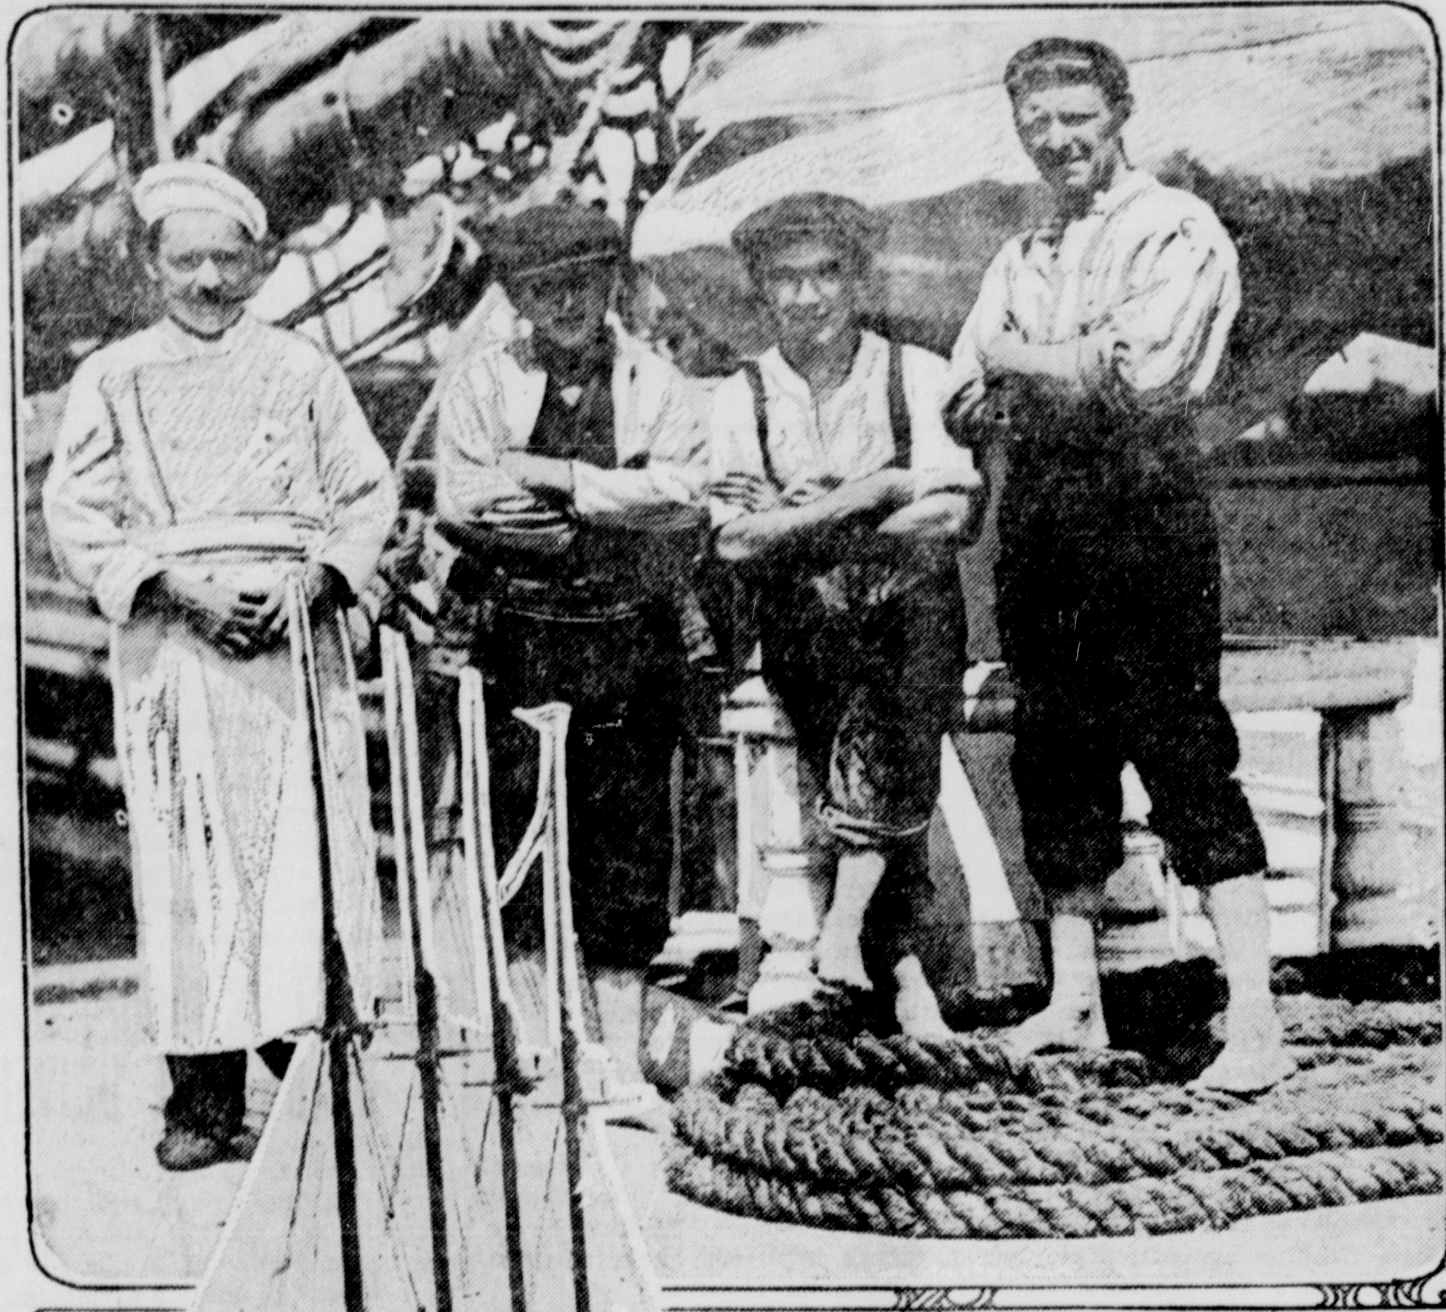

The explosion followed a fire on board. Flames were discovered in the ship's galley and spread rapidly. The crew tried to flood the magazine and beach the dreadnought, but the explosion occurred before shallow water could be reached. A big hole was torn in the warship's hull and she rolled over on beam ends, throwing many sailors into the water. Many were drowned.

CLEVELAND IS SHORT

(By American Press)

Cleveland, Aug. 16.—First it was milk, and now it is beer shortage that threatens here. "There isn't enough bottled beer in the city to go round," said Theodore Fischel, of the Cleveland-Sandusky Brewing Co. "The demand for bulk beer has increased 40 per cent also."

SHIP MAKES PORT AFTER STRUGGLING WITH DISASTER FOR THIRTEEN MONTHS

THE FREDERICK A. DUGGAN AND CREW

Battered by adverse winds, leaks and warped spars, the schooner Frederick A. Duggan has at last found rest in Philadelphia after a voyage which makes one think of Vanderdecken's famous Flying Dutchman. The Duggan began her voyage to America early in July, 1915, starting from Southampton, England. She met with storms, illness and death among her crew, shortage of provisions and water, and every other form of disaster that can overtake a ship short of absolute shipwreck. The picture shows the Duggan as she looked on her arrival in Philadelphia and the crew shortly after they had enjoyed their first bath in thirteen months. They had been living on crackers for weeks.

RUSSIAN DRIVE CONTINUES

Fierce Fighting is Being Waged Against Teutonic Allies Along Entire Line South of Brody—British Captures Trenches on the Thiepval-Pozieres Front—Days' Operations in Other War Zones.

London, Aug. 16.—Jablonitsa, one of the principal gateways to the Hungarian plains, from Galicia, has been captured by the Russians and Petrograd reports that their offensive in this direction is continuing. This is the first news of an advance by the Russian southern army since the conquest of the Austrian crown land of Bukovina was completed.

Further to the north the Russians are continuing their driving operations against the Austrians with apparently uninterrupted success. Their troops are pouring across the Zlota Lipa at several points in spite of desperate resistance on the part of Teutonic forces. Fierce fighting is being waged along the entire line south of Brody.

As far as the other theaters of war are concerned, main interest centers in the Italian operations, no important action being reported on either the British or French fronts. The Italians are vigorously pressing their advance on the Carso Plateau, and Rome reports the capture of several sections of the Austrian trenches and the taking of more than 1,600 prisoners. Unofficial dispatches from Italian sources claim General Cadorna now is within 13 miles of Trieste, and that the Austrian fleet has left the harbor.

The Austrian official statement reports the repulse of Italian attacks in the Vipava Valley, about 18 miles east of Gorizia, but the official statements from both sides leaves the general situation vague.

The Germans admit that the British have obtained a foothold in their trenches on the Thiepval-Pozieres front, and report the repulse of violent attacks by the British and French in other sectors of the Somme line. According to Paris and London, the day passed without any event of significance.

Another report of fighting on the Balkan front comes from the Berlin war office, which states that a small engagement occurred south of Lake Doiran. There have been several reports of fighting in this theater recently and all have come from German or Bulgarian sources. As on previous occasions, Berlin claims that the fighting was of small importance and resulted in a repulse for the entente allies. London and Paris both remain silent as to the situation at Salonica.

WOULD FIGHT TO PROTECT AMERICANS

Hughes Asserts He Would Not Shrink From War.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 16.—Charles E. Hughes told an audience in Tacoma's stadium that he would not shrink from war in enforcing American rights abroad.

He read the Democratic program of 1912 declaring for protection of American rights abroad. "I want that made real," the nominee said. "I do not think in making that real we encounter the dangers of war. I would not shrink from it if we did in performing the obvious duty."

Mr. Hughes confined his remarks almost wholly to what he termed the need for a protective tariff. "I propose a wise tariff without abuses," he said, "but frankly a tariff to build up and maintain American industries."

Hughes reviewed Democratic tariff legislation and the Democratic platform plank of 1912 relating to the tariff. "Our opponents said they would reduce the cost of living," he said. "Behold the result."

The anti-dumping provision of the pending revenue bill was discussed by Mr. Hughes. "I have had some experience with statutes," he said, "and if that statute works it will be a tremendous surprise to me."

Possibility that the Ohio troops may be needed with others in protecting the United States mails in the event of a complete tie-up of railroad trains has been suggested. SYNOPSIS

Pierpont Stafford, banker and railroad magnate, with his sixteen-year-old daughter Gloria, is wintering at Palm Beach. Gloria is a vivacious, but wilful young lady who chafes under the restraining hand of a governess from whom she repeatedly escapes. Her childish capers cause young Doctor Royce to fall in love with her. She steals from her room at night and in an auto plunges into the surf where she leaves the car. Becoming lost in the everglades she falls into the hands of the Seminole Indians. She is rescued and returned to her father who had offered a reward for her return.

He and Mulry in the flush of their early successes had spread out—had established branch offices in Albany, Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburgh. While the tide set their way these branches served as so many hands to gather in shekels. But when the hard times came upon the financial world they served as so many mouths to feed. The office of Freneau & Mulry became one of those dismal places where the pay roll is a weekly agony and where the watchword is "everything going out and nothing coming in."

When Freneau at last awoke to realize that bankruptcy instead of plutocracy was likely to be his portion he turned back to his work with a desperate energy. And now Lois found that he was as fierce an office man as her husband. He had engagements when she was lonely.

She naturally implied his neglect to some other charmer. She could not believe him guilty of overwork. She grew jealous and their meetings were stormy. She kept his telephone busy to make sure that he was at his desk. She began to annoy him. He wished to be rid of her, but she would not be jilted.

It was during this crisis that Gloria marked off the last month of her five years ordeal. She was ambitious enough to go on and finish her course and get her diploma. She compressed her last year of schooling into half a year and graduated all alone in mid-winter.

She dashed into her room at college for the last time, with her solemn mortarboard askew on her head, her somber black gown flying from her shoulders, and in her hand her parchment diploma (in Latin that she could nearly translate). She looked like a little Portia for a moment.

She threw her diploma in air and her mortarboard after it. She whipped off her black robe and began to juggle school books, letting them fall where they fell. She danced a jig over her scholarly past and made haste to pack her things and dart out to meet her future. "Future" was her spelling of "Freneau."

The journey to New York from school was as long as the journey to New York from Palm Beach had been years ago; only then she had been traveling away from her romance, now toward it.

When her father met her at the train she hugged him almost to suffocation, then asked him how dear Mr. Freneau was the last time he saw him.

"The last time I saw dear Mr. Freneau was at Palm Beach," said Pierpont, who had almost forgotten his name and had hoped that Gloria had forgotten it entirely.

As soon as she reached the house on Riverside drive and embraced the old servants and shook hands with the new, Gloria took her father into his library and asked him for Mr. Freneau's telephone number. She had found "Freneau & Mulry" in the book already, and she said: "Do you suppose that that Mr. Mulry's Freneau is my Mr. Freneau?"

"I don't know, I'm sure," Pierpont grumbled. "But it wouldn't be very correct to telephone a busy man, would it?"

"I suppose not," Gloria admitted. "Where's a pen? I'll write him."

"How long has it been since you wrote him last?" said Pierpont anxiously.

"Why I've never written him at all," Gloria answered, shocked. "I promised, didn't I?"

Pierpont kissed her brow with a profound pride. Then he ventured to say, "Don't you think it would be nicer if you waited for him to look you up?"

Gloria gnawed the end of the penholder a moment, and then sighed with all the impatience of youth in the shackles of conventionality. "I suppose so," she flung down the pen and wondered how she could manage delicately to attract Mr. Freneau's attention without seeming to.

"By the way," said Pierpont, "there's a big gala performance at the Metropolitan Opera house tonight, a special benefit for some war relief. Would you like to go?"

"You bet!" cried Gloria with school-girl elegance.

At about that time Freneau was just putting down the telephone in his office. Lois had called him to say that her husband was taking her to the benefit and she hoped that he would be there. She had something important to tell him. Everything she had to tell him was immensely important nowadays to her—and immensely unimportant to him.

BANNER SHOW OF HORSES IS FAIR FEATURE

Dozens of Fine Animals Entered in Greatest Horse Show Ever Given at County Fair—Percherons Lead in Numbers—Ribbons to Be Awarded Tomorrow Afternoon.

(By Howard C. Allen)
The traditions of Fayette county as the home of good horses will be fully lived up to as indicated by the banner entry in the various show classes for the different breeds at the fair. From all over the county the best has been selected and fitted for sharp competition and David Fyffe, Superintendent of Animal Husbandry at the Ohio State University who will award the prizes, will have his work cut out.

The Percherons are at the fore in numbers this year. Imported horses from France and their progeny born in America, all ages are represented from the lordly sire to the frisky colt of a few months. In this breed, James Bros. of Jefferson township are showing five animals. Among them is the black mare Veda that was the winner at the last fair of the Hagler Cup for the best mare, any breed. At the last fair she had a colt at her side that was then but a few months old. Later in the year the colt was one of the winners in the Eastern Percheron Futurity and following that was sold for $1,000. Dow Fent and S. E. Shults also of Jefferson township are also Percheron exhibitors, each having six horses. M. L. McCoy is showing five head of pure bred good ones, and entries are also in from Clark Post and Emmett Hardway. A new exhibitor is W. Ross from Bowersville, who brings six horses. All Percherons were judged Wednesday.

The Belgians will make a strong display and will probably be judged in the infield Thursday afternoon. Roy Hagler who showed here last year the herd that later was the Belgian sensation of the State Fair will have a larger entry this year, having eight stabled in this section. Frank L. Parrett will divide the honors having six entries. Hays Dill will also exhibit in this breed.

In Sires the only exhibit will be made by R. W. Thomas of New Holland. The Roadster division as is fitting in this county where for generations the trotting bred horse has been the idol of the people, will be exceptionally strong. Springdale Stock Farm, the home of Baron Bond, will be represented by an aristocratic band of young horses with the Baron at the head. In the class for horses over four years of age, Baron Bond will have sharp competition when he meets Drusus, a son of Zombro, that is owned by W. K. Knight, the secretary of the American Trotting Association. Mr. Knight's home is in Chicago and Drusus is in charge of N. G. Squire who will exhibit him. Mr. Knight may be able to get here to see the show.

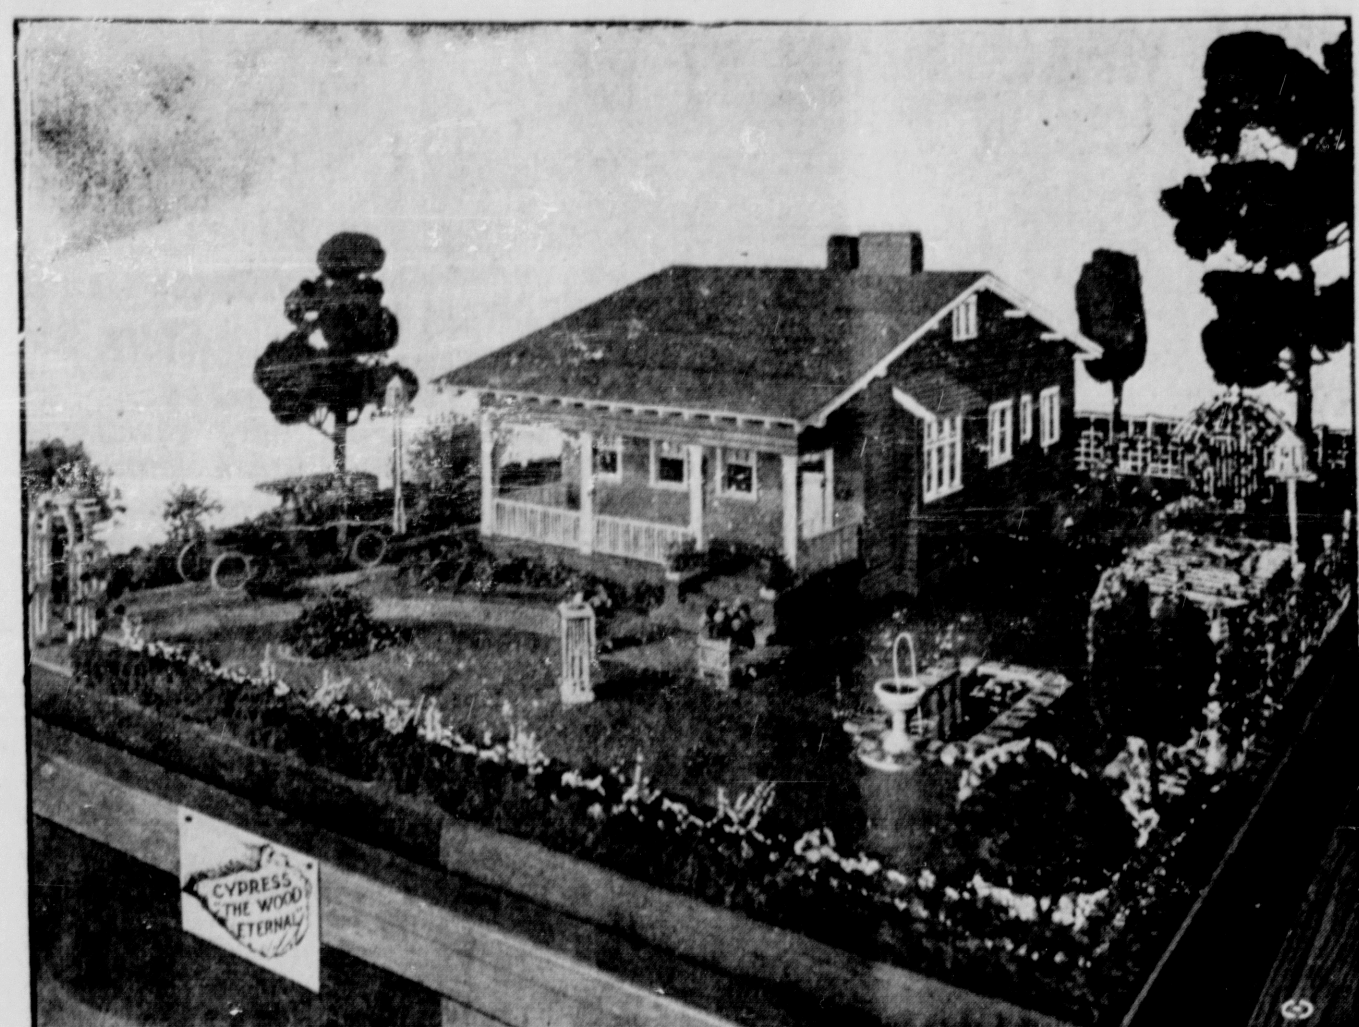

In the classes for the younger horses there is a multitude of entries, among the owners are: A. C. Henkle, Bert Michell, Dr. L. P. Howell, Rev. G. H. Harper, who will show a four year old roadster, a son of Bay Wreath that is attracting a lot of attention; A. E. Dawson; Curtis Stewart; Floyd E. Arnold; Wert Compton; James Bros.; S. E. Shults, and James Wright of Atlanta. In all forty three horses are named in this division.

The direction of this feature is in the capable hands of Charles Roberts of Staunton. The Fair company is delighted at the response of the horsemen of the county and will use every endeavor to encourage the breeding of the pure bred horse.

The Hague, Netherlands, Aug. 16. Dutch agricultural products reached the value of $372,800,000 during 1915 in comparison with the normal valuation of $260,000,000 or an increase of 43 per cent, according to study that has been made by the Department of Agriculture. The increase, however, in the price of artificial manures and other raw materials, and in wages, has reduced this paper profit of $112,800,000 to about $72,000,000, according to the department's estimate.

AN INTERESTING EXHIBIT AT THE FAYETTE COUNTY FAIR

The above picture shows part of a remarkable display by the Washington Lumber Company and Southern Cypress Manufacturers' Association, at the Fayette County Fair. The tent is located to the right of the roadway, between the Welfare tent and Art Hall, and the public is cordially invited to step in.

This particular show is a demonstration of the beautiful without excessive cost, and it shows a moderate priced bungalow set in a lawn designed by a landscape gardener. There are trellises and arbors, made of cypress, "The Wood Eternal," such as anyone can build, and there is a garage made out of a pergola which is more pleasing than the usual out building constructed for such a purpose.

The Washington Lumber Company is prepared to furnish working plans of all of the cypress trellises and arbors shown, and also of the little bungalow and of other houses. —Advt.

Naval Officers Facing a Monstrous Task Under New Appropriation Bill

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, August 16. — Navy officers virtually had before them today the task of carrying out the largest program for building warships ever adopted with a single appropriation by any nation.
Although technically not completed, the naval bill, carrying $315,800,000, had been approved in its main provisions by Congress and was in the hands of a conference committee only to settle minor differences between the House and Senate on navy yard appropriations.
Increases written into the bill by the Senate and approved by the House provide for the construction of 157 war vessels within the next three years and an enlisted strength of 74,700 men.

AMBASSADOR PAGE'S RETURN IS SADDENED BY DAUGHTER-IN-LAW'S DEATH

AMBASSADOR WALTER H. PAGE

The homecoming of Walter H. Page, American ambassador to Great Britain, for a brief respite after three years of work, has been saddened by the death of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frank E. Page, of acute anterior poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis). The young woman was married to Ambassador Page's son in June and was ill only three days of the disease that is killing and crippling so many children in New York city and elsewhere and that attacks adults sometimes. The picture of Mr. Page was taken on his arrival at New York.

A Man Who Knew Everything.

Thiers, the French statesman, was a victim of many whimsies. None had stronger hold on him, says Mgr. Gabriel Hanotaux in "Contemporary France," than his desire to get everybody to recognize his universal competency.

Of an applicant for the post of director at the Serres manufactory Thiers said:
"He is no more made for that part than I for"—and then he stopped.
"Ah, oh! M. Thiers," said his interlocutor, "you find it hard to say what you could not do."
"That's the truth! That's the truth!" cried the statesman gleefully.
One day Thiers said, speaking of a man who had been raised to a high function:
"He is no more suited for that office than I am to be a druggist. And yet," he added, catching himself up, "I do know chemistry!"

Force of Light.

Light has an actual mechanical pressure and can be measured in the laboratory. It has been found that the sun's light in itself presses against the earth with a force something like 70,000 tons. As the surface of a sphere varies as the square of the radius, and as the volume or mass varies as the cube of the radius, and as the mechanical pressure of light on the whole surface varies as that surface, and as the force of gravity varies as the mass, if a sphere is made smaller and smaller it is easily seen that the pressure of light does not decrease so fast as the force of gravity, so bodies beyond a certain minuteness could not reach the sun, but would be repelled by the mechanical force of its light.

PARTY VOTE BOOSTS BILL

Republicans in Finance Committee Oppose Revised Revenue Bill.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, August 16. — By a strict Democratic vote, Republicans unanimously opposing it, the Senate Finance Committee today ordered a favorable report to the Senate on the revised revenue bill, calculated to raise about $205,000,000 a year.
Chairman Simmons proposed, after disposition of the shipping bill, that the Senate should take up the workmen's compensation bill.
In this event, the revenue bill will be the last important measure to be acted upon this session.
Although some Democrats are expected to oppose some features of the bill, Senator Simmons said he could see no reason why Congress should not adjourn about September 1st.

GERMAN VIEW OF THE SOMME

Half Million Men in British Force, German General Staff says, Unable to Break Through Lines.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
GERMAN TRENCHES OPPOSITE THE BRITISH POSITIONS AT GOMMECOURT, ON THE SOMME FRONT, MONDAY, AUGUST 14. — HALF A MILLION BRITISH HAVE BEEN ENGAGED IN THE EFFORT TO BREAK THE GERMAN LINES ON THE SOMME FRONT. OFTEN THE BRITISH OUTNUMBERED THE GERMANS SIX TO ONE.

They have gained ground to a depth of three to five miles over a front of about eighteen miles, but nowhere have been able to break through.
More than ever, death has become commonplace in this most murderous battle of all times.

The Germans in the first line know that they probably will be killed if their positions are attacked.

Trenches are virtually useless, for the heavy British shells widen them into broad channels.

The first line usually perishes. The advancing British foot troops are no better off, because the Germans reverse the process when part of their positions have been captured.

Thus the battle has been going on for weeks, the opposing forces now gaining at terrific cost, and then losing at even greater cost, a few yards of trenches.

German officers who were in the Champagne offensive said no such artillery fire ever had been developed previously.

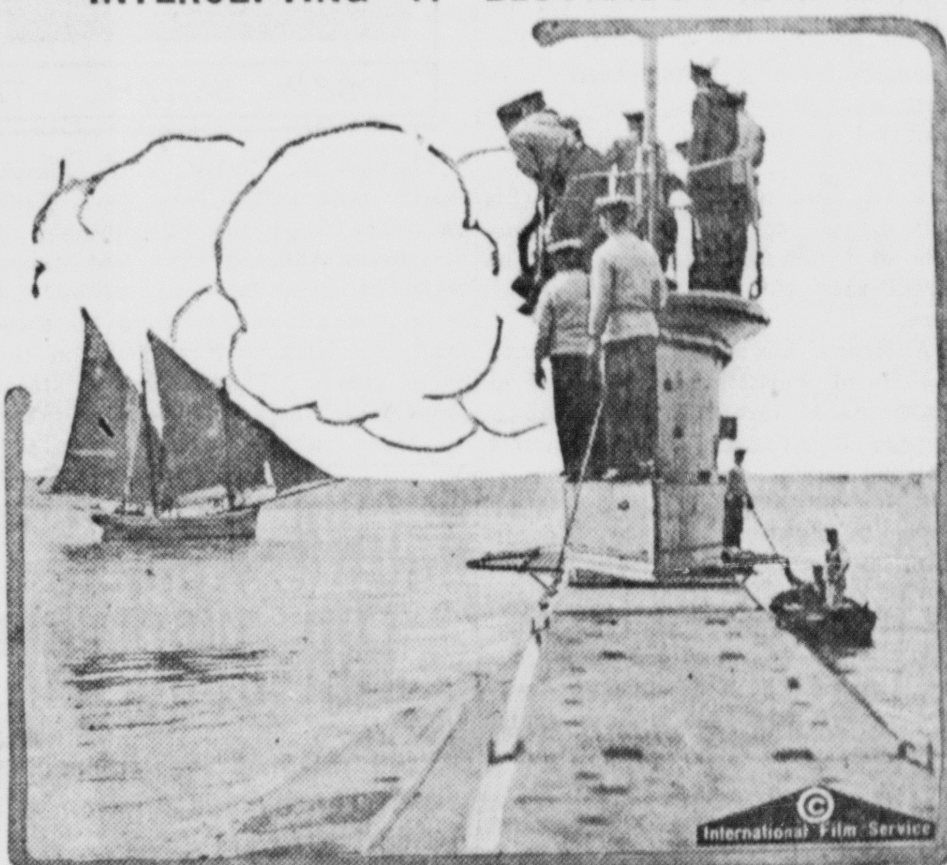

The German fire, too, is terrific. An idea of its intensity may be gained from the fact that on certain British troops German guns threw 1,600 shells in one minute and forty-five seconds, resulting in great slaughter.

Often the British assault dies away before the German second line, from which machine guns pour out streams of bullets which literally cut them into fine fragments.

The men are in capital shape, physically, and of easy mind, although they are looking upon death at each instant.

An officer pointed out that nowadays each man is his own leader, as it is often impossible under present battle conditions to transmit commands.

TO CONFER THURSDAY

By Associated Press Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, AUGUST 15. — PRESIDENT WILSON DECIDED TODAY TO POSTPONE FURTHER CONFERENCES WITH THE REPRESENTATIVES OF THE RAILROADS AND EMPLOYEES ON THE THREATENED RAILROAD STRIKE UNTIL TOMORROW, WHEN HE WILL RECEIVE THE GENERAL COMMITTEE OF 640 WORKMEN IN THE EAST ROOM OF THE WHITE HOUSE.

In the meantime, the committee of managers here and the general committee of the employees will meet to discuss tentative plans now before them.

The plan on which the president is working is to put into effect the eight hour day and have a federal commission investigate collateral issues.

Details of the plan have not been worked out, but it was said to be possible today that if the railroads conceded an eight hour day, the employees will be urged to give up their demands for time and a half for overtime.

The halt in the negotiations has been caused primarily by the fact that the brotherhood leaders that have been meeting with the President have no plenary powers and have to refer all important questions back to their general committee, in New York.

President Wilson decided time would be saved and better results achieved if the members of the general committee were brought to Washington and met him directly.

The committee of managers remained in session almost continuously today, discussing the conference with the President and the tentative suggestions outlined.

It was stated that the negotiations are now in such form that definite decisions may be made by both sides before the end of the week.

Two special trains will bring the committeemen from New York.

PRESIDENT FINISHES HIS PLANS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, August 16. — President Wilson late today completed a definite plan for settlement of the threatened railroad strike, which he will submit tomorrow to the general committee of 640 representatives of the employees and the managers' committee.

The plan involves the acceptance of a basic eight hour day with regular pay for overtime, and an investigation by a commission of other issues.

PROSPECT GROWING BRIGHTER

Special Commission Idea Appeals to Both Sides—President Waits for Committee.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, August 16. — Out of the deadlock between the railroad managers and the brotherhood leaders, a new proposal appeared today for a special commission to consider not only the present wage dispute, but all others in the future.

While President Wilson, the managers' committee and the spokesmen for the men awaited the arrival of the employees' committee of 640, which is expected here from New York tomorrow for the next White House conference, Administration officials and the representatives of the two sides considered the commission idea with a degree of seriousness which indicated it would come into the negotiations as one of the next steps in the President's attempt to avert a nation wide strike.

DECREASED DEATH RATE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

(Associated Press Cable.)

LONDON, AUGUST 16. — THE RUSSIANS, AFTER A CONSIDERABLE PERIOD OF INACTIVITY IN THE CARPATHIANS, ARE MOVING AGGRESSIVELY AGAINST THE TEUTONIC FORCES THERE.

Following the taking of Jablonka, one of the chief gateways to Hungary, reported last night, they have captured a series of heights west of Vorokhta and Ardzemoy.

Petrograd reports an Austrian retreat to the west of this region.

The movement is considered of importance as tending more effectively to protect the flank of the Russian armies moving northwestward in the Stanislaw-Halicz region in their advance on Lemberg.

Russian captures of prisoners from June 4 to August 12 are officially reported by Petrograd to have totalled more than 358,000 men.

Along the French front in the Somme region, there was no marked activity during last night.

At Verdun, there was a violent artillery bombardment east of the Meuse.

Raid by both Austrian and Italian airmen are occurring with frequency in the region around Trieste and Gorizia where rival aviators are endeavoring to inflict material damage behind the opposing lines.

Italian aircraft, aided by French machines, have bombed munitions plants and airfields near Trieste, and Austrian aviators have made another raid on Italian depots and positions near the mouth of the Danube. In each case marked successes are claimed.

JAPS' MOVE SIGNIFICANT

(Associated Press Cable.)
Tokio, Aug. 16.—The appointment of Baron Gonsuke Hayashi as minister to China simultaneously with the announcement of the Russo-Japanese alliance is regarded here as being of great significance and as opening a new chapter in the relations between Japan and the Chinese Republic. Baron Hayashi was ambassador to Italy at the time of his selection for the post at Peking at which capital he served as minister several years ago. The Japanese consider him one of their foremost diplomats. He accepted the place at Peking which brings him back to ministerial rank at the urgent solicitation of Japanese statesmen.

The representative to China freely discussed the Chinese situation with the representative of a prominent Japanese newspaper. He expressed the opinion that it was premature to conclude that the death of President Yuan Shikai benefitted Japan. To China, his death may have been fortuitous in so far as it has contributed to settling the turbulent situation. Still, what the final result would be remains to be seen.

Baron Hayashi voiced his belief that conservation and prudence should have the dominating influence in dealing with the situation in China. He referred to the fact that at the last session of the Diet there had occurred much discussion of the advisability of Japan guiding China. He said he considered it most imprudent to speak of "guiding China". He continued: "Modern Japan was not built in a day. Similarly it will take many more years before China awakens from her long dream and evolves, from her two thousand years old institutions, social organization, customs and manners, and puts on the new garb of modern civilization. But it must come sooner or later. Her commerce, in dustry and agriculture are destined to expand, and her rich resources will bring in immense national wealth when fully developed. In such eventualities, it will be no other country than Japan that will derive the immense benefits resulting from China's future development."

The minister concluded: "It is a good thing to attempt to unify national views respecting the policy towards China, but it is to be desired that politicians and publicists of this country, as well as the general public, should not be 'in haste' about the Chinese questions. When

NEW ZEPLS. ARE READY FOR WORK

(Associated Press Cable.)
Copenhagen, Aug. 16.—The Germans, says a report received here, have just completed and placed in a huge shed at Darmstadt, ten Zeppelins of 820 feet in length with a gas capacity of 190,675 cubic feet. In the hull is provision for machine guns and for light pieces of ordnance.

The newest Zeppelins are said to have four armor-plated cars, of which the first is the heaviest. All the cars are fitted with guns. Armor-plated gangways connect the cars. The engines indicate 4,000 horsepower, and the speed is 57 miles an hour. These ships can reach a height of more than 13,000 feet.

WOULD MOVE BIG WHEAT CROP

(Associated Press Cable.)
Melbourne, Australia, Aug. 16.—The government's purchase of fifteen large steamships in England to be operated by the Commonwealth in the movement of Australian wheat to Europe will not go far towards solving the problem. The steamers have a total cargo capacity of 120,000 tons, but it is doubtful if they can make more than two trips each to Europe before the end of the year, and this will dispose of only 9,000,000 bushels of the huge quantity of the cereal that is awaiting shipment here.

Australia has almost 100,000,000 bushels of wheat stored in sheds or beginning to sprout in stacks where storage is unavailable in country railroad yards, and the Commonwealth's next wheat harvest is already in sight to further complicate the problem.

The government's purchase of the steamers is hailed by the Labor Party with gratification, for the establishment of a government-owned fleet has long been a plank in its platform.

JAPS BUSY ON CAPTURED ISLES

(Associated Press Cable.)
Tokio, Aug. 16.—Government officials recently returned from the German South Sea islands which were occupied by Japan after outbreak of the European war report that Japanese administration has been widely extended and that primary schools have been established in seven of the largest islands. The archipelago which is now ruled by Japan includes islands in the groups known as Marianne, Caroline and Marshall.

The native children are taught the Japanese language, arithmetic, singing and sewing. It is proposed to send a party of sixty leading natives to Japan during the summer or autumn. A regular line of steamers maintains communication with Japan while Japanese sailing vessels and launches run between the various islands. The actual disposition of the islands is to be decided at the peace conference which will follow the present war.

SUN DOES WORK OF VANQUISHED HEN

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)
Fremont, O., Aug. 16.—A hen owned by Fred Reichel, who lives near this city, settled down on a nest on a pile of hay directly under the tin roof of a shed recently. For two weeks, according to Reichel the hen stuck conscientiously to her duty then was forced by the excessive heat to evacuate. The summer sun took up the work where the hen left off and beat down on the tin roof with all its might, with the result that in proper season twelve chicks were hatched from sixteen eggs—according to Reichel.

POTTERY WORKERS MAY LAUNCH STRIKE

(By Associated Press.)
East Liverpool, O., Aug. 16.—Saggar makers in the general ware potteries of the East Liverpool district served notice on the manufacturers that unless they were allowed free clay they would strike. They have been earning from $4 to $5 a day, and it is said they have been required to pay from 40 to 50 cents for clay. About 150 men would be directly affected by a strike, but some 6,000 operatives in other branches of the industry would be thrown out of work by a suspension.

HEAVY TONNAGE LOSS AT SEA

(Associated Press Cable.)
Liverpool, Aug. 16.—The Liverpool Underwriters Association in their casualty returns for June 1916 reported that 131 British steam and sailing vessels and 169 foreign vessels were posted in the Loss Book during the month of June—a total of 300 compared with 314 in June, 1915, and 362 in June, 1914. These include minor casualties as well as total losses.

The tonnage of vessels actually lost in June totals 31,998 against 12,770 in June, 1915, and 22,081 in June 1914.

For the six months ending June 30, 1916, 286,813 tons of shipping disappeared against 256,407 in the corresponding period of 1915 and 193,592 in 1914.

The Taxpayers' League

Last Monday evening more than two score representative citizens met to consider and discuss together some problems of public concern.

The matter of cleaning and flushing the paved streets was the primary cause of the meeting but the controversy over the proposed contract for the rendition of that public service having, prior to the meeting, been transferred to the court for solution, there was little for the gathering to do with reference to that matter.

The most important development of the meeting was the fact that a taxpayers' league was formed with more than two score of enrollments.

It is the belief of those who attended the meeting that a permanent organization of men, vitally concerned with the conduct of public affairs in Washington has resulted.

Washington, so far as the manner of transacting public business is concerned, has been showing a tendency to run at loose ends and at cross purposes, an evidence that the best results are not being secured.

The real trouble is the system which is too costly and too cumbersome for a city of this size. There are too many bars down in the official fences which permit the entry of politics and special interests into the conduct of public affairs.

Washington has done very well, under the circumstances, thus far and it will be in changing conditions that the real service of the taxpayers' league will prove invaluable. The city has now reached the point where the property owners' interests must be safeguarded by the adoption of real practical business methods; when public affairs must be placed in business order and conducted according to business rules, or the burdens will become intolerable and private affairs suffer a loss in addition to the direct burden of taxation.

Another Crisis

President Wilson is again called upon to face a tremendous crisis—the threatened strike of more than four hundred thousand railroad employees throughout the country which, unless it can be averted, will paralyze traffic on the more than two hundred railroads, bring commerce, both foreign and domestic, to a standstill, leave travelers stranded away from home, interrupt, if it does not entirely halt, the mail service, and send the prices of food stuffs already higher than ever known, still higher.

Such a strike would directly cut off the earning capacity of more than half a million men who, with their dependents would make a grand total of more than two million people to say nothing of those indirectly affected.

The railroad employees and managers, failing to reach an agreement, the efforts of the Federal Board of Mediation and Conciliation having come to naught, President Wilson himself has been called upon to use his best efforts to bring about an agreement on the matters in dispute and avert the strike.

Both railroad managers and the chiefs of the brotherhoods have expressed their admiration of the president's comprehension of the situation and contentions of both parties and his sympathetic interest.

Whether his efforts for peace will be successful depends largely, if not entirely, upon the good faith and the honesty of purpose of the disputing parties.

The nation hopes that the way to peaceful settlement will be found before, instead of after, the cost and suffering and, perhaps, bloodshed, of a general strike.

The Child Labor Law

While the nation is appalled at the ravages of infantile paralysis, while human beings everywhere are aghast at the death rate among children, and while the authorities, national, state and local are doing everything within their power to check the spread and stamp out the disease which is claiming so many children as its victims, it is difficult to understand just how any member of the national congress can oppose the enactment of a law forbidding child labor in the workshops and factories of the land.

Every year the iniquitous custom of working children in factories has claimed its thousands of little victims.

It is likely that more fatalities among children are attributable to child labor than to the ravages of infantile paralysis, yet some legislators, who would go to any extreme in the expenditure of money and energy to stamp out the plague, balk at the enactment of a law which would remove a menace much more deadly to the children of the land.

It becomes necessary for the federal government to act because of the hostility caused by selfish interests with which some of the states, unfortunately, view the proposal to do away with child labor. The action of the national government is necessary too, in order that that uniformity which will prevent any advantage in cost of production.

The proposed law which is being and has been so relentlessly urged upon the law makers by President Wilson is certainly all that any manufacturer, who has a spark of love for humanity in his makeup, could ask.

Poetry For Today

TE WIND AND THE SEA.

The sea is a jovial comrade,
 He laughs wherever he goes;
 His merriment shines in the dimpling lines
 That wrinkle his hale repose;
 He lays himself down at the feet of the sun,
 And shakes all over with glee,
 And the broad-backed billows fall faint on the shore,
 In the mirth of the mighty sea.

But the wind is sad and restless,
 And cursed with an inward pain;
 You may hark as you will, by valley or hill,
 But you hear him still complain.
 He wails on the barren mountains,
 And shrieks on the wintry sea;
 He sobs in the cedar, and moans in the pine,
 And shudders all over the aspen tree.

Welcome are both their voices,
 And I know not which is best—
 The laughter that slips from the ocean's lips,
 Or the comfortless wind's unrests,
 There's a pang in all rejoicing,
 A joy in the heart of pain,
 And the wind that saddens, the sea that gladdens,
 Are singing the selfsame strain!

SITUATION FAR FROM ADJUSTED

General Committee of Employees to See Wilson.

MAY GET SHORTER DAY

Contending Officials Refuse to Predict What the Outcome Will Be—President Wilson is Sounding Sentiment and Has Not Attempted as Yet to Make Any Effort to Settle the Problem.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Effort of President Wilson to bring about a settlement of the threatened railway strike has made some progress and opened the way for further negotiations.

The situation is brightened by the possibility of a settlement being reached by the railroads conceding the principle of the eight-hour day and both sides settling collateral issues by some sort of negotiations as yet undetermined.

After conferring with President Wilson the employees' subcommittee sent word to New York for the 640 members of the general committee to come to Washington, in order to facilitate negotiations. They are expected here Thursday and probably will see the president Friday. The managers' committee conferred with him again today.

When it became clear that arbitration of the entire problem probably never would be reached, but the railroads might concede the eight-hour day and dispose of other issues by some form of negotiation, the president directed his energies to obtaining expressions from both sides on how negotiations could be carried on.

Conferences and inquiry by an investigating committee were suggested and the president indicated his willingness to appoint such a commission himself.

It is understood that the employees' representatives offered no suggestions on this feature of the situation. The railroads were reported to be ready to concede the principle of the eight-hour day on condition that all collateral issues be thoroughly investigated by the interstate commerce commission or some other body. Administration officials refused to predict what the outcome would be, and the president was said to be uncertain whether a strike could be avoided. The White House conferences will be continued, but it was not believed that a crisis would be reached before Thursday. In the meantime the managers and employees will communicate with the interests they represent.

The decision to send to New York for the general committee of railroad employees was reached because the subcommittee here is without power to reach important decisions without reference to the men in New York. At first it was suggested that the subcommittee here go to New York, but the president thought it would be better to have the general committee come here. He wasted no opportunity to explain to all the members any suggestions which may be made by the managers' committee.

Thus far the president has not attempted to bring the two sides together on any concrete proposal. He is sounding sentiment on all phases of the situation in order to have the case fully in hand before making a final effort to settle the problem.

Both sides continued reticent regarding the discussions. The railroad managers decline absolutely to talk of the negotiations and about all the employees' officials will say is that there still is hope.

BLACKMER & TANQUARY.

FAYETTE COUNTY FAIR IS NOW IN FULL SWING

Patrons Delighted With Unusual Offerings Which Feature Fair This Year.

FINE RACING PROGRAM DRAWS CROWD TODAY

Nearly All Departments Show Marked Increase Over Previous Years—State Exhibits Draw Much Attention—Monster Crowd Expected Tomorrow.

The Sixteenth Annual Fayette County Agricultural Fair is now in full swing, and patrons are delighted with the offering this year.

The weather man smiled a broad smile Wednesday morning, dispelling the clouds and gloom, and a good sized Wednesday crowd flocked to the fair grounds for entertainment, amusement and instruction, which is found in abundance this year.

Big Day Tomorrow.

All indications point to Thursday bringing one of the biggest crowds to the grounds that was ever assembled there, and arrangements are being made accordingly.

The racing card Thursday includes the 2:11 pace, purse $500; 2:15 trot, purse $400; 2:20 trot, purse $300; with an unusually large number of entries in these fast races.

Friday will be another big day, the racing and everything else being sufficient to insure another big crowd.

Horse Shoe Contest.

The horse shoe contest Wednesday was an interesting feature, with Mr. A. W. Duff in charge. The pegs were set northwest of the grandstand and the first thing encountered was a big bumble bee's nest located midway between the stakes. It was necessary to annihilate the bees before annihilating any records.

Machinery.

A few years have wrought wonders in the farm machinery and farming implements, and the exhibits at the fair offer a splendid opportunity to note the countless changes.

Several local concerns have large exhibits on the grounds and each is sure to attract its share of attention.

The several automobile displays also are receiving their share of attention—and it is a very large share—indicative of the interest in motoring.

Fence men, concrete contractors, lumbermen and others have interesting displays. One which is attracting much attention is that of the Washington Lumber Company, where a miniature bungalow and surroundings are shown, constructed of cypress wood.

Amusements.

The line of amusements include tented attractions, merry-go-round, ferris wheel, swings, etc., where the youngsters and the oldest may enjoy themselves as much as they like.

Welfare Headquarters.

Just to the right of the main road way as one enters the fenced enclosure of the grounds is located the Welfare Headquarters, with Miss Sutton in charge. It is here the public rest rooms are found, also the emergency hospital is here.

The Better Babies conference is conducted in one of the tents on the Welfare Association.

In the main room of the Welfare Headquarters are found statistics calculated to make one think, and think seriously, of what public health means, and particularly of what "better babies" mean.

Public Health Exhibit.

Just across the roadway from the Welfare Headquarters is the State Public Health Exhibit. This occupies a large tent and everything in the tent is of a highly educational nature, as well as of absorbing interest. Scores of graphic illustrations are found here that "tell the story" of much ill health and give the reason for many unnecessary deaths. This exhibit is in charge of a man from the State Board of Health who explains where explanation is necessary.

Every man, woman and child attending the fair will miss one of the really big things of the fair unless they spend at least a half hour in the tent. No admission is charged.

Poultry Raising Exhibit. Another exhibit sent out by the State, and one which is of great interest, is the Poultry Raising Exhibit, across the roadway southeast of the art hall. This is another remarkable and practical demonstration of much educational value.

I. O. O. F. EATS & DRINKS. The Washington Odd Fellows have five tents on the grounds. One of these tents shelters a kitchen, screened in; another covers a screened dining hall; the third a soft drink, hot lunch stand; a fourth, soft drinks, pop corn, etc., and the fifth, the largest of all, is devoted to ice cream, etc. Cleanliness is apparent at all of these places, and "home folks" are to be found in the stands. The Health Officer has placed his "O. K." on these places.

Improvements Made.

Many improvements have been made about the grounds, and one noticeable improvement is the placing of covers over the tanks at the wells, and inserting faucets in each side of the tanks so that drinking water may be readily obtained.

New seats and flooring are found at the grandstand, while new roofing is very much in evidence. Fences have been repaired and other work done to bring the grounds more up to date. The judges' stand on the north side of the track is another change.

The Departments.

The speed ring rightly should be the leading attraction this year, and is in charge of that veteran horseman, Chas. Allen, who is known to every man, woman and child who will attend the fair.

Mr. Howard Allen has charge of the show horses and much credit is due him for the superb offering this year.

The Cattle Department is in charge of Mr. M. L. McCoy and is one of the very interesting departments.

Mr. O. A. Klever, head of the Swine Department, is greatly elated over the fine showing of swine, and the exhibits are expected to arouse increased interest in the raising of really fine porkers.

Even the Poultry and Pet stock Department, of which Mr. D. E. Mereson is superintendent, has an added interest, and is drawing its share of attention.

The department of farm products, domestic science, etc., in charge of Mr. Oris Hagler, is never without a stream of visitors who are giving close attention to each entry. The large general exhibits by Mr. Walter Sprenger and Mr. Chas. Allen attract much admiration.

Mr. James Ford is superintendent of the machinery displays, and is pleased with the offering.

The department of fine arts is overflowing with the beautiful, and Miss Flora Allen had difficulty in finding sufficient space to properly display all of the beautiful things consigned to this department.

Boys & Girls Department.

No feature of the fair is attracting more general interest than the pig and poultry raising contests, and home making contest, in which liberal prizes have been offered to stimulate interest among the boys and girls of the farm.

The main exhibits in these departments are under a large tent, northwest of the grandstand, and near the swine department. Mr. Frank Collopy has charge of the Boys' and Girls' Club work, and Messrs. Conklin and Kirkpatrick, of the O. S. U., are judges.

Some enterprising farm girls have raised porkers which rival those grown by the boys. One boy raised a pig which gained 2.4 pounds daily. Misses Kauffman and Roush, of the O. S. U. have charge of the girls' canning and baking contests.

Veterinary Exhibit.

The State Veterinary Department exhibit, south of the agricultural hall, is an interesting one, and is drawing large crowds.

Excellent Music.

The Washington Band is furnishing the music and receiving many compliments on the excellent music rendered.

The band has made special arrangements for this week, and play a large number of high class selections.

AUTO IS WRECKED TWO ARE INJURED

Touring Car Turns Over After Rounding Curve on Devalon Road and Entire Party Has Miraculous Escape—Two Are Painfully Hurt.

A automobile accident in which a number of persons had very close calls from death or serious injury occurred just south of the Shely turn on the Devalon road, about 10:30 Tuesday night, when Mr. Chas. McLean's automobile turned completely over and was badly wrecked.

Mr. McLean had been to London to see Mrs. McLean who is visiting friends there, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mallow, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrie Spragg and Miss Dora Hays were with him in his Hudson car.

The accident occurred just after the machine rounded the turn and it is supposed the rear wheel broke causing the machine to swerve from side to side but regardless of Mr. McLean's efforts to control it, the machine turned across the road and then turned completely over, alighting right-side-up and spilling most of the occupants.

Mr. McLean suffered painful cuts and bruises on the left leg and sprained shoulder. Mr. Spragg was pinned beneath the rear portion of the machine and one leg badly cut and bruised. It was some little time before the machine could be pried up and Mr. Spragg released from his dangerous position. Mr. Mallow, Mrs. Mallow, Mrs. Spragg and Miss Hays escaped with slight scratches and bruises.

The machine was badly wrecked, one rear wheel being torn to pieces, spring broken, windshield and top torn off, steering wheel broken and the car otherwise damaged.

Passersby rendered assistance and brought the entire party into the city.

PRIMITIVE BAPTIST ASSOCIATION HOLDS 3-DAY SESSION HERE

The Scioto Primitive Baptist Association, including thirteen churches in South Central Ohio, opened the 112th annual session at the High School Auditorium in this city, Wednesday morning, and will be in session until Friday evening, during which time a number of well known Elders of the Association will preach.

Two sessions will be held each day, and the noonday luncheon furnished by the Harmony, Mt. Oak and Mt. Pleasant churches, is enjoyed in the basement rooms each day. Wednesday morning the introductory sermon was delivered by Elder

L. V. Hite, of Marion, Ohio, who spoke from St. Johns, 17-2.

Reading of letters from the various churches also occupied part of the time at the Wednesday morning session, and all churches were reported in good condition.

Elder Walter Yeoman is Moderator, and Gale Hanover, of Ashville, is clerk.

About 150 persons attended the morning session, and this number is expected to increase during the remaining sessions.

CARROLL M'CREA FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Friends of Mr. Carroll M'Crea, of Toledo, will be interested to learn that he was successful in being nominated one of the four Lucas county candidates for State Representative.

There was a field of ten candidates for the nominations. Mr. M'Crea is a son-in-law of Judge and Mrs. F. G. Carpenter.

NO DANGER

No infantile paralysis exists in the city or county, so far as known, and the Health Officer believes there is no danger for youngsters at the fair, and many inquiries have been answered in that way.

One rumor was that children would be barred from the fair, but this was false, and due to needless alarm.

EYE INJURED

While at work in a garage Wednesday morning, Wilbur Cabbage nearly lost an eye when the handle of an air pump struck him, cutting an ugly gash under the eye, but not injuring the sight.

BRUTAL WORK EXPECTED TO CAUSE ARREST

A large number of citizens on Temple and Market streets are much wrought up over an act of brutality which has been called to the attention of Humane Officer Gooder who is expected to act in the matter.

According to information available a handsome shepherd dog had been left at the home of a North street resident, and he desired to get rid of the animal, and paid a man $1 to dispose of the dog.

It seems the man took the animal into the alley back of Withrow's grocery early Monday evening, and with a club brutally beat it until its agonized cries ceased, and then left it for dead, tied to a telephone pole. A short time later the animal regained consciousness and its cries aroused the neighborhood throughout the night.

Tuesday morning the dog was found in the alley, still alive and with its head covered with blood and skull crushed, trying to free itself from the rope about its neck.

Residents of that part of the city notified the Humane Officer who had an officer to shoot the dog. Two shots were fired and the dog again was left for dead, but later revived, and it was not until about noon Tuesday that Mr. Withrow, acting upon advice from the Mayor's office, dispatched the suffering brute.

Citizens familiar with the affair are insisting that the man who brutally beat the dog be arrested and fined the limit, and are looking to the Humane Society to do this.

USED ALCOHOL IN DRIVING MACHINE

Raymond Rood was taken into custody Wednesday morning and locked up on a charge of being intoxicated.

Rood was found seated in a Ford automobile in the middle of South Fayette street, and was in a drunken sleep when discovered by the officers. When aroused he wanted to fight, but was taken in tow and soon reposed in the county jail.

A charge of driving a machine while intoxicated may be placed against the man, and if so the penalty is a severe one.

It is supposed he had been asleep in the machine most of the night.

MILLION DOLLAR BANK IS BOAST OF WASHINGTON

Midland National Bank, in Current Statement, Exhibits Aggregate Resources Which Carry It Over the Million Dollar Limit.

Marks Era in Development Which Attests Conclusively Community Prosperity.

As evidence of the prosperity and development of this community—city and county—the tremendous business and resources of its flourishing financial institutions — its banks, national, state and private—may be accepted as final and conclusive.

There is no barometer so sensitive to and so accurate in its recording of business conditions as banks and financial institutions. The fact that the 16 banks of this county exhibit such a prosperous condition and are transacting such an immense volume of business renders absolutely impossible any serious suggestion of business depression.

The five large banks of this city all show a flourishing business which means a prosperous, busy community.

There can't be any doubt about that, because if the community is not prosperous the bank deposits can't be large and if the bank deposits are not large the bank loans are not extensive—can't be.

Prosperous, busy banks therefore show not only a rich community, but an active, "up and doing" community, with everything on the go and everybody prosperous.

But all that is generality—academic so to speak.

Here is a startling and pleasing concrete fact.

WASHINGTON CAN NOW BOAST OF A MILLION DOLLAR BANK.

It's a fact and it's the first time in the history of the city and county that a local financial institution has attained that tremendous figure.

The Midland National Bank, in its financial statement, shows that it now enjoys the honor of having passed the million dollar mark in resources.

To be exact, the Midland National Bank exhibits resources aggregating at the present time, $1,002,913.26.

That's a great big business and indicates what is going on in the community. As an evidence that the vast resources exhibited in the statement are not lying idle in the vaults of the institution, as proof that the community is doing business it should be noted that of this more than a million dollars of resources, $707,602.41 is in loans and discounts. Actually circulating in the arteries of business and trade of the city and county.

That means that the community is at work and is bound to grow and expand and increase its wealth.

Another item in the statement worthy of particular consideration is that the people of the community have on deposit, in the million dollar bank, $834,679.82. That is proof that several individuals in this city of eight thousand population, and this county of 22,000, have "money in the bank."

And when we remember that four other banks in Washington are crowding the Midland National for a division of the honor that comes to a million dollar bank, we begin to appreciate just what kind of a community this is, in which we live.

The officers of Washington's million dollar bank are: S. W. Cissna, president; Viola F. Stuckey, vice-president; M. S. Daugherty, cashier; Scott Hopkins, assistant cashier; H. E. Daugherty, teller.

HORSE THIEF IS CAPTURED

George Ackley, 19, Admits Stealing Horse and Rig in This City — Arrested in Bainbridge Upon Information From Police—"Curley" Church With Him.

The thief who stole Mrs. W. D. Irvin's horse and buggy from the rack at Grace M. E. church, was captured in Bainbridge, Tuesday evening, and is now in the county jail awaiting a hearing. He is said to have admitted his crime.

The thief is George Ackley, 19, who was arrested in company with "Curley" Church after trying to dispose of the horse and buggy in Bainbridge.

The pair, when suspected, abandoned the outfit and tried to escape, but after a thrilling chase were captured and Sheriff Jones notified. He went to Bainbridge and brought the pair back.

Ackley exonerates Church, claiming the latter knew nothing about the matter until Tuesday.

At a preliminary hearing before Justice Craig this morning both men were held to the grand jury under $200 bond.

Antiquity of the Senate.

The senate is historically much older than the lower house, or house of representatives, as it is called in our country and time. In the remote time, while as yet there was no such thing as a science of government, the tribe was wont to look to its old men, on account of their wisdom and experience, for advice in all matters pertaining to the tribe, and those old men were the first senators. The word senator comes from "senes," meaning old. As civilization advanced and seated government became a fact the senate continued to be composed of the old men, and when by and by the second chamber, or council, was added the senate continued to receive the larger measure of reverence and respect.

A Taste For Soap.

Surely one of the queerest of tastes was that of the historian Prescott, of whose life in Rome Mrs. Hugh Fraser tells in "A Diplomatist's Wife In Many Lands." She says that he used to keep a cake of soap on his writing table and nibble at it constantly, "saying, when he was remonstrated with, that people should be clean inside as well as out."

CREATES SECOND GREATEST

Measure on Preparedness Passed By House.

DEMOCRATS OPPOSE BILL

Enlistment of 74,700 Men and Building of 157 Vessels Authorized During Next Three Years—Republican Leader Says His Party Should Get Credit For Adoption of the Measure. Kitchin Flays Democrats.

Washington, Aug. 16.—The administration's program of national defense was virtually completed when the house finally approved the great increases in construction and personnel in the big navy measure. The bill creates the second greatest navy in the world.

The house accepted the building program, to which its conferees on the measure had refused to agree, by a vote of 283 to 51, with seven of the members present not voting. The personnel increases, on which there also was a disagreement in conference, were approved without a record vote.

The personnel and construction sections, which already have the approval of the senate, authorize an increase in enlisted men to 74,700 and the building of 157 war vessels within the next three years, with four battle cruisers and four battleships included among the ships for 1917. Previously the house had refused to adopt a continuing building program, had authorized only five capital ships, all of them battle cruisers, and had provided for a personnel of only 65,000.

On several less important sections, including appropriations for improvement of navy yards, the house insisted on its disagreement to senate increases and voted to send the bill back to conference for settlement of these points. An early agreement is expected, however, and the measure may be sent to the president for his signature within a week.

The vote by which the house accepted the senate increase in the building program was non-partisan, the majority of both Democrats and Republicans voting in the affirmative.

Of the 51 members who voted in the negative there were 35 Democrats, 15 Republicans and one Socialist.

The time allotted opponents of the big program was controlled by Democratic Leader Kitchin, who charged the Democrats with a sharp change of front.

"Two months ago the Democrats, urged by the administration, were asked to vote against the wild, reckless, extravagant appropriations proposed by the Republicans," said Mr. Kitchin. "I denounced the Republican program as a reckless criminality. Yet now the chairman of the committee, the secretary of the navy, the president and fellow Democrats ask me to get up here and eat my words."

Republican Leader Mann, advocating the increase, declared it was ordinary wisdom to prepare for "what we hope will never come."

"I want to keep out of war," he said, "but we should be prepared to protect our rights, at home and abroad. The credit will belong to the Republican side for the votes that will pass this larger program."

DREADNAUGHT GOES TO BOTTOM

(By American Press)

Paris, Aug. 16.—The Italian dreadnought Leonardo Da Vinci has been blown up in Taranto harbor, Italy, and 300 of her crew lost, according to unofficial dispatches received here.

The explosion followed a fire on board. Flames were discovered in the ship's galley and spread rapidly. The crew tried to flood the magazine and beach the dreadnought, but the explosion occurred before shallow water could be reached. A big hole was torn in the warship's hull and she rolled over on beam ends, throwing many sailors into the water. Many were drowned.

Cleveland, Aug. 16.—First it was milk, and now it is beer shortage that threatens here. "There isn't enough bottled beer in the city to go round," said Theodore Fischel, of the Cleveland-Sandusky Brewing Co. "The demand for bulk beer has increased 40 per cent also."

SHIP MAKES PORT AFTER STRUGGLING WITH DISASTER FOR THIRTEEN MONTHS

THE FREDERICK A. DUGGAN AND CREW

Battered by adverse winds, leaking at every seam, with tattered sails and warped spars, the schooner Frederick A. Duggan has at last found rest in Philadelphia after a voyage which makes one think of Vanderdecken's famous Flying Dutchman. The Duggan began her voyage to America early in July, 1915, starting from Southampton, England. She met with storms, illness and death among her crew, shortage of provisions and water, and every other form of disaster that can overtake a ship short of absolute shipwreck. The picture shows the Duggan as she looked on her arrival in Philadelphia and the crew shortly after they had enjoyed their first bath in thirteen months. They had been living on crackers for weeks.

Jablonitsa In Hands of Czar's Forces.

RUSSIAN DRIVE CONTINUES

Fierce Fighting is Being Waged Against Teutonic Allies Along Entire Line South of Brody—British Captures Trenches on the Thiepval-Pozieres Front—Days' Operations in Other War Zones.

London, Aug. 16.—Jablonitsa, one of the principal gateways to the Hungarian plains, from Galicia, has been captured by the Russians and Petrograd reports that their offensive in this direction is continuing. This is the first news of an advance by the Russian southern army since the conquest of the Austrian crown land of Bukovina was completed.

Further to the north the Russians are continuing their driving operations against the Austrians with apparently uninterrupted success. Their troops are pouring across the Zlota Lipa at several points in spite of desperate resistance on the part of Teutonic forces. Fierce fighting is being waged along the entire line south of Brody.

As far as the other theaters of war are concerned, main interest centers in the Italian operations, no important action being reported on either the British or French fronts. The Italians are vigorously pressing their advance on the Carso Plateau, and Rome reports the capture of several sections of the Austrian trenches and the taking of more than 1,600 prisoners. Unofficial dispatches from Italian sources claim General Cadorna now is within 13 miles of Trieste, and that the Austrian fleet has left the harbor.

The Austrian official statement reports the repulse of Italian attacks in the Vipava Valley, about 18 miles east of Gorizia, but the official statements from both sides leaves the general situation vague.

The Germans admit that the British have obtained a foothold in their trenches on the Thiepval-Pozieres front, and report the repulse of violent attacks by the British and French in other sectors of the Somme line. According to Paris and London, the day passed without any event of significance.

Another report of fighting on the Balkan front comes from the Berlin war office, which states that a small engagement occurred south of Lake Doiran. There have been several reports of fighting in this theater recently and all have come from German or Bulgarian sources. As on previous occasions, Berlin claims that the fighting was of small importance and resulted in a repulse for the entente allies. London and Paris both remain silent as to the situation at Salonica.

WOULD FIGHT TO PROTECT AMERICANS

Hughes Asserts He Would Not Shrink From War.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 16.—Charles E. Hughes told an audience in Tacoma's stadium that he would not shrink from war in enforcing American rights abroad.

He read the Democratic program of 1912 declaring for protection of American rights abroad. "I want that made real," the nominee said. "I do not think in making that real we encounter the dangers of war. I would not shrink from it if we did in performing the obvious duty."

Mr. Hughes confined his remarks almost wholly to what he termed the need for a protective tariff. "I propose a wise tariff without abuses," he said, "but frankly a tariff to build up and maintain American industries."

Hughes reviewed Democratic tariff legislation and the Democratic platform plank of 1912 relating to the tariff. "Our opponents said they would reduce the cost of living," he said. "Behold the result."

The anti-dumping provision of the pending revenue bill was discussed by Mr. Hughes. "I have had some experience with statutes," he said, "and if that statute works it will be a tremendous surprise to me."

GUARDS REMAIN AT CAMP WILLIS

Suggested Troops May Be Needed In Event of Strike.

Columbus, Aug. 16.—There was no direct criticism by militiamen at Camp Willis concerning news from Washington suspending the orders to move to the Mexican border.

They admitted that threatened general strike of the railroads was sufficient reason for them to be held at the mobilization camp for the time being.

Most of the guardsmen are tired of the life at camp. They want to go to the border preferably, but they would rather go back home than remain indefinitely in camp here.

Possibility that the Ohio troops may be needed with others in protecting the United States mails in the event of a complete tie-up of railroad trains has been suggested. Discussion has been heard at Washington of the possibility of the president taking over control of the railroads should a wide spread strike ensue and food supplies be stopped.

Gloria Romance

SYNOPSIS

Pierpont Stafford, banker and railroad magnate, with his sixteen-year-old daughter Gloria, is wintering at Palm Beach, Florida. Gloria is a vivacious, but willful young lady who chafes under the restraining hand of a governess from whom she resolutely escapes. Her childish capers cause young Doctor Royce to fall in love with her. She steals from her room at night and in an auto plunges into the surf where she leaves the car. Becoming lost in the everglades she falls into the hands of the Seminole Indians. She is rescued and returned to her father who had offered a reward for her return.

He and Mulry in the flush of their early successes had spread out—had established branch offices in Albany, Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburgh. While the tide set their way these branches served as so many hands to gather in shekels. But when the hard times came upon the financial world they served as so many mouths to feed. The office of Freneau & Mulry became one of those dismal places where the pay roll is a weekly agony and where the watchword is "everything going out and nothing coming in."

When Freneau at last awoke to realize that bankruptcy instead of plutocracy was likely to be his portion he turned back to his work with a desperate energy. And now Lois found that he was as fierce an office man as her husband. He had engagements when she was lonely.

She naturally imputed his neglect to some other charmer. She could not believe him guilty of overwork. She grew jealous and their meetings were stormy. She kept his telephone busy to make sure that he was at his desk. She began to annoy him. He wished to be rid of her, but she would not be flied.

It was during this crisis that Gloria marked off the last month of her five years ordeal. She was ambitious enough to go on and finish her course and get her diploma. She compressed her last year of schooling into half a year and graduated all alone in mid-winter.

She dashed into her room at college for the last time, with her solemn mortarboard askew on her head, her somber black gown flying from her shoulders, and in her hand her parchment diploma (in Latin that she could nearly translate). She looked like a little Portia for a moment.

She threw her diploma in air and her mortarboard after it. She whipped off her black robe and began to juggle school books, letting them fall where they fell. She danced a jig over her scholarly past and made haste to pack her things and dart out to meet her future. "Future" was her spelling of "Freneau."

The journey to New York from school was as long as the journey to New York from Palm Beach had been years ago; only then she had been traveling away from her romance, now toward it.

When her father met her at the train she hugged him almost to suffocation, then asked him how dear Mr. Freneau was the last time he saw him.

"The last time I saw dear Mr. Freneau was at Palm Beach," said Pierpont, who had almost forgotten his name and had hoped that Gloria had forgotten it entirely.

As soon as she reached the house on Riverside drive and embraced the old servants and shook hands with the new, Gloria took her father into his library and asked him for Mr. Freneau's telephone number. She had found "Freneau & Mulry" in the book already, and she said: "Do you suppose that that Mr. Mulry's Freneau is my Mr. Freneau?"

"I don't know, I'm sure," Pierpont grumbled. "But it wouldn't be very correct to telephone a busy man, would it?"

"I suppose not," Gloria admitted. "Where's a pen? I'll write him."

"How long has it been since you wrote him last?" said Pierpont anxiously.

"Why I've never written him at all," Gloria answered, shocked. "I promised, didn't I?"

Pierpont kissed her brow with a profound pride. Then he ventured to say, "Don't you think it would be nicer if you waited for him to look you up?"

Gloria gnawed the end of the penholder a moment, and then sighed with all the impatience of youth in the shackles of conventionality. "I suppose so," she flung down the pen and wondered how she could manage delicately to attract Mr. Freneau's attention without seeming to.

"By the way," said Pierpont, "there's a big gala performance at the Metropolitan Opera house tonight, a special benefit for some war relief. Would you like to go?"

"You bet!" cried Gloria with school-girl elegance.

At about that time Freneau was just putting down the telephone in his office. Lois had called him to say that her husband was taking her to the benefit and she hoped that he would be there. She had something important to tell him. Everything she had to tell him was immensely important nowadays to her—and immensely unimportant to him.

Health Commissioner Selby says the idea might prove practical. Pioneers declare there are "more mosquitoes to the square inch" in Toledo now than was ever known to be the case. They attribute the "plague," as it is being styled to the excessive humidity and high temperatures of the past few weeks.

"Just spot a mosquito on the wall, put the vacuum cleaner near him and presto!—he disappears without blood or blur to mar the walls," declares Mr. Selby.

BANNER SHOW OF HORSES IS FAIR FEATURE

Dozens of Fine Animals Entered in Greatest Horse Show Ever Given at County Fair—Percherons Lead in Numbers—Ribbons to Be Awarded Tomorrow Afternoon.

(By Howard C. Allen)
The traditions of Fayette county as the home of good horses will be fully lived up to as indicated by the banner entry in the various show classes for the different breeds at the fair. From all over the county the best has been selected and fitted for sharp competition and David Fyffe, Superintendent of Animal Husbandry at the Ohio State University who will award the prizes, will have his work cut out.

The Percherons are at the fore in numbers this year. Imported horses from France and their progeny born in America, all ages are represented from the lordly sire to the frisky colt of a few months. In this breed, James Bros. of Jefferson township are showing five animals. Among them is the black mare Veda that was the winner at the last fair of the Hagler Cup for the best mare, any breed. At the last fair she had a colt at her side that was then but a few months old. Later in the year the colt was one of the winners in the Eastern Percheron Futurity and following that was sold for $1,000. Dow Fent and S. E. Shults also of Jefferson township are also Percheron exhibitors, each having six horses. M. L. McCoy is showing five head of pure bred good ones, and entries are also in from Clark Post and Emmett Hardway. A new exhibitor is W. Ross from Bowersville, who brings six horses. All Percherons were judged Wednesday.

The Belgians will make a strong display and will probably be judged in the infield Thursday afternoon. Roy Hagler who showed here last year the herd that later was the Belgian sensation of the State Fair will have a larger entry this year, having eight stabled in this section. Frank L. Parrett will divide the honors having six entries. Hays Dill will also exhibit in this breed.

In Sires the only exhibit will be made by R. W. Thomas of New Holland. The Roadster division as is fitting in this county where for generations the trotting bred horse has been the idol of the people, will be exceptionally strong. Springdale Stock Farm, the home of Baron Bond, will be represented by an aristocratic band of young horses with the Baron at the head. In the class for horses over four years of age, Baron Bond will have sharp competition when he meets Drusus, a son of Zombro, that is owned by W. K. Knight, the secretary of the American Trotting Association. Mr. Knight's home is in Chicago and Drusus is in charge of N. G. Squire who will exhibit him. Mr. Knight may be able to get here to see the show.

In the classes for the younger horses there is a multitude of entries, among the owners are: A. C. Henkle, Bert Michell, Dr. L. P. Howell, Rev. G. H. Harper, who will show a four year old roadster, a son of Bay Wreath that is attracting a lot of attention; A. E. Dawson; Curtis Stewart; Floyd E. Arnold; Wert Compton; James Bros.; S. E. Shults, and James Wright of Atlanta. In all forty three horses are named in this division.

The direction of this feature is in the capable hands of Charles Roberts of Staunton. The Fair company is delighted at the response of the horsemen of the county and will use every endeavor to encourage the breeding of the pure bred horse.

DUTCH MAKE MARKED GROWTH

(Associated Press Cable)
The Hague, Netherlands, Aug. 16. Dutch agricultural products reached the value of $372,800,000 during 1915 in comparison with the normal valuation of $260,000,000 or an increase of 43 per cent, according to study that has been made by the Department of Agriculture. The increase, however, in the price of artificial manures and other raw materials, and in wages, has reduced this paper profit of $112,800,000 to about $72,000,000, according to the department's estimate.

AN INTERESTING EXHIBIT AT THE FAYETTE COUNTY FAIR

The above picture shows part of a remarkable display by the Washington Lumber Company and Southern Cypress Manufacturers' Association, at the Fayette County Fair. The tent is located to the right of the roadway, between the Welfare tent and Art Hall, and the public is cordially invited to step in.

This particular show is a demonstration of the beautiful without excessive cost, and it shows a moderate priced bungalow set in a lawn designed by a landscape gardener. There are trellises and arbors, made of cypress, "The Wood Eternal," such as anyone can build, and there is a garage made out of a pergola which is more pleasing than the usual out building constructed for such a purpose.

The Washington Lumber Company is prepared to furnish working plans of all of the cypress trellises and arbors shown, and also of the little bungalow and of other houses. —Advt.

BIG NAVY BUILDING WORK IS ON

Naval Officers Facing a Monstrous Task Under New Appropriation Bill

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, August 16. — Navy officers virtually had before them today the task of carrying out the largest program for building warships ever adopted with a single appropriation by any nation.

Although technically not completed, the naval bill, carrying $315,800,000, had been approved in its main provisions by Congress and was in the hands of a conference committee only to settle minor differences between the House and Senate on navy yard appropriations.

Increases written into the bill by the Senate and approved by the House provide for the construction of 157 war vessels within the next three years and an enlisted strength of 74,700 men.

AMBASSADOR PAGE'S RETURN IS SADDENED BY DAUGHTER-IN-LAW'S DEATH

AMBASSADOR WALTER H. PAGE

The homecoming of Walter H. Page, American ambassador to Great Britain, for a brief respite after three years of work, has been saddened by the death of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frank E. Page, of acute anterior poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis). The young woman was married to Ambassador Page's son in June and was ill only three days of the disease that is killing and crippling so many children in New York city and elsewhere and that attacks adults sometimes. The picture of Mr. Page was taken on his arrival at New York.

A Man Who Knew Everything.
Thiers, the French statesman, was a victim of many whimsies. None had stronger hold on him, says Mgr. Gabriel Hanotaux in "Contemporary France," than his desire to get everybody to recognize his universal competency.

Of an applicant for the post of director at the Sevres manufactory Thiers said:
"He is no more made for that part than I for"—and then he stopped.
"Ah, oh! M. Thiers," said his interlocutor, "you find it hard to say what you could not do."
"That's the truth! That's the truth!" cried the statesman gleefully.

One day Thiers said, speaking of a man who had been raised to a high function:
"He is no more suited for that office than I am to be a druggist. And yet," he added, catching himself up, "I do know chemistry!"

Force of Light.
Light has an actual mechanical pressure and can be measured in the laboratory. It has been found that the sun's light in itself presses against the earth with a force something like 70,000 tons. As the surface of a sphere varies as the square of the radius, and as the volume or mass varies as the cube of the radius, and as the mechanical pressure of light on the whole surface varies as that surface, and as the force of gravity varies as the mass, if a sphere is made smaller and smaller it is easily seen that the pressure of light does not decrease so fast as the force of gravity, so bodies beyond a certain minuteness could not reach the sun, but would be repelled by the mechanical force of its light.
